WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today Communist aggression against South Viet Nam "has grown progressively more flagrant" but there is no military requirement for the use of nuclear weapons.

A regular North Vietnamese battalion of 400 to 500 men is now in the South, he said, adding that some 39,000 Communists in all have crossed the border to join the fighting.

These forces, plus other Viet Cong guerrillas already there, have lost 89,000 men killed, the secretary said.

McNamara, reporting on the Viet Nam fighting in a news conference carried nationally by radio and television, said the war is costing the United States about $1.5 billion a year, $800 million of it for U.S. land, sea and air forces directly involved in the fighting.

He opened with a 16-minute statement and then answered questions.

Among other things he said:

1. There is clear evidence that the nearly three months of bombings of highways, bridges, railroads and other infiltration facilities in the North had caused the Communists morale problems and have made them extend their limited resources.

2. There are indications of a substantial buildup of Communists in the highland area west of the Da Nang airbase, a key U.S. position in South Viet Nam, over the past 12 months.

3. He did not know whether the Communists would attempt an assault against the base but that it is not possible for the Communists to inflict a Dien Bien Phu type defeat on this country — a reference to the disaster suffered by the French at the hands of the Communist Vietminh in 1954.

4. The air strikes in the North have impeded infiltration but have not stopped it.

5. "We have added U.S. naval vessels and aircraft to help the South Vietnamese junk fleet in apprehending" infiltrators coming down by sea from the North.

6. "To the best of my knowledge there are no operational antiaircraft missile sites in Communist North Viet Nam, but the United States assumes they will be there and is planning its actions accordingly.

Over the weekend it became known that the administration feels it should use whatever weapons are needed — including nuclear — to end the Communist aggression against South Viet Nam.

Asked about this, McNamara said that while the United States is holding open the option of using nuclear weapons if it becomes necessary "no useful purpose can be served by speculation on remote contingencies."

He said North Vietnamese aggression "has grown progressively more flagrant and unconstrained."

Ex-San Rafael Fire Chief Clarence Johansen Dies

Former San Rafael Fire Chief Clarence Martie (Fritz) Johansen, 69, of 50 Hillcrest Drive, San Rafael, died yesterday at home after a sudden illness.

Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said today the apparent cause of death was a heart attack. An autopsy was scheduled at Harry M. Williams mortuary where funeral arrangements are pending.

Johansen collapsed at a party given to announce the engagement of a friend's daughter in Ross yesterday afternoon. He was taken to San Rafael General Hospital for examination, Bradley said.

He was released to go home and went to bed. When he complained of chest pains, his wife, Isabelle, called a physician who arrived at the home shortly before 7:30 p.m. and pronounced Johansen dead, Bradley reported.

He was born on the west side of D Street between First and Francis streets, San Rafael. He attended San Rafael Grammar School and spent three years in high school where the E Street School now stands.

CLARENCE JOHANSEN
Fireman, musician

After three years of study as a professional drummer, Johnson played in dance bands in San Francisco in 1915 and 1916.

He joined the Navy in 1917 and was a drummer in the 12th Naval District Band at San Pedro.

When he was discharged, he formed Johansen's Dance Orchestra. It became a familiar name in the Bay Area.

He recalled that often he and the band members had to run off the dance floor to fight a fire as they were volunteer firemen. He became a full-time fireman in 1924.

On his retirement, the San Rafael City Council cited him for his outstanding service during the 36 years he had been with the local department.

He was the second generation of Johansens which had fought fires in the city. His father, Martie Johansen, fire chief in 1905 and 1906, died of a heart attack while fighting a fire at Fourth and D streets in 1932.

Exactly 25 years later, Johansen led a crew of firemen and volunteers who squelched a blaze at the same corner when the entire block went up in flames July 30, 1957.

Surviving is his wife, Isabelle. His first wife, Anne Struve, died in 1952 after 25 years of marriage. In 1954, he married Florence Mazet. She died in 1956.

Captive Confirms Rumors

SAIGON (UPI)—A regular unit of the North Vietnamese army is fighting in South Viet Nam for the first time, it was disclosed today. Informed sources said it may be a regiment of more than 1,500 men.

The disclosure, by U.S. and and Vietnamese officials was the first official confirmation that Communist North Viet Nam had joined the fighting in regular units. It heightened fears that a Communist offensive was building up in South Viet Nam's central highlands and raised speculation on a possible widening of the war.

RED UNIT NAMED

Spokesmen for the U.S. Embassy and the South Vietnamese government identified the unit as a battalion of the 101st Regiment of the North Vietnamese army's 325th Division.

But other sources said intercepted radio transmissions indicated that the entire 101st Regiment—more than three times the size of a battalion—had moved into South Viet Nam.

Official spokesman have announced only the presence of a battalion, presumably because the evidence for this comes directly from a captured North Vietnamese soldier.

It had been known for some time that regular soldiers from North Viet Nam had been fighting alongside the Viet Cong, but today's announcement for the first time identified an entire North Vietnamese unit as a force in the war.

ANTI-U.S. RIOTS

(In Tokyo and Phnom Penh, Cambodia, there were demonstrations against U.S. Viet Nam policy today. Riot police held back the 25,000 Tokyo marchers from the U.S. Embassy but 20,000 Cambodians were reported to have attacked the U. S. Embassy but 20,000 Cambodians were reported to have attacked the U.S. Embassy there.)

The announcement of the North Vietnamese unit was made jointly by the United States and South Viet Nam.

"We have enough evidence of the battalion's presence to pass it from the 'probable' to the 'confirmed' category," the American official said.

In the past, U.S. officials

No Motive Found In Slaying

Motive for the slaying by multiple stabbings of a San Quentin Prison clothing factory foreman Friday was being sought today by investigators of the Marin County District Attorney's office.

No charge had been filed at noon today against the main suspect, Armando G. Sanchez, 33, inmate serving a fourth term on a narcotics peddling conviction.

The victim, Ralph Canning, 54, of Oakland, was struck at least 18 times with a knife-like instrument while in the factory. Officers said Sanchez was spotted soon after and had in his possession a "wedge-shaped" home-made blade.

Investigators said today it has not been learned if there had been "bad feeling" between Sanchez and Canning, but the former had worked under Canning's supervision about six months.

Other employee personnel in the factory includes a second foreman, C. J. Maylin, and a factory superintendent.

Seashore Land 'Swap' Blasted

A charge that "secretive maneuvers" were involved in the proposed exchange of Oregon timberland for the creation of Point Reyes National Seashore was made yesterday by Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield.

He demanded an investigation into the 400,000 acre land swap.

Hatfield said he is calling on Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall to make the facts of the case known and added that Sen. Wayne Morse (Dem-Ore.) had been asked to intervene.

Hatfield's executive assistant, Warne Nunn, said the proposed land swap "would sabotage Oregon's sustained-yield timber development program."

Hatfield also protested the reassignment of Russell Getty, director of the Bureau of Land Mangaement in Oregon and called for a probe into the reasons for the removal from his position.

Southern Oregon resident William Sweet, who owns land needed for the Point Reyes seashore, had been offered a swap of about 2,000 acres of Land Management territory, it was revealed.

Hatfield warned, "If this 'sweet-swapping' takes from a sustained yield program government timberlands which are a part of our over-all conservation program, then it must be stopped."

Heat Drives Thousands To Marin Parks, Beaches

Stinson Beach State Park had an all-time record high estimate of 12,000 people in the park yesterday as Marin County and the Bay Area basked in the sunshine of a warm summery day.

Robert G. Carlson, beach supervisor, reported today 1,500 cars paid the entrance fee at the park, 266 more than the previous one-day record established in 1963.

"We only had seven lost children to find in the huge crowd of picnickers, sun-bathers and swimmers which flocked to the park yesterday and we located them all," Carlson said.

The near-90-degree temperatures sent approximately 1,400 persons to Angel Island State Park during the weekend, Park Supervisor John A. Biggio reported.

The number showed a marked increase over last year's figures during spring weekends, he said.

Visitors on the island are still limited to the Hospital Cove area but work is continuing to clear brush and unused, non-historic buildings so that more park area will be open to the public, he reported.

Yesterday's high temperature in Marin was recorded in San Rafael where the mercury hit 90 degrees. Other highs were in San Anselmo, 89; Novato, 86; Ross, 84; Mill Valley, 80 and Sausalito, 78.

The weather bureau forecast continued fair weather through tomorrow with fog along the coast starting tonight. Cooler temperatures are expected tomorrow.

India Troops, Pakistani Trade Shots

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India alerted its armed forces today and recalled all personnel on leave as Defense Minister Y. B. Chavan declared that large Pakistani forces were attacking along India's western border.

Chavan told Parliament a brigade — about 5,000 men — of Pakistani infantry supported by tanks was attacking Biarbet, about six miles inside territory claimed by India in the disputed Rann of Kutch area.

He said Pakistan's forces attacked Biarbet last night but were beaten off.

"This morning's news," said Chavan, "states that Pakistan is again attacking Biarbet with a brigade of infantry and a sizable force of armor."

The Indians charged that Pakistan had for the first time thrown tanks into the area and

JUNTA IS OUSTED BY DOMINICANS

Rebels Seek Return Of Exiled President; Loyalist Planes Bomb Capital Palace

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic — Rebel-held Radio Santo Domingo said Dominican air force planes today bombed the presidential palace "and the people". It said navy gunners shot down one of the attacking planes.

The rebels, seeking to return ousted President Juan Bosch to the presidency, said they were attacking the highway between the city and the air base at San Isidro, to prevent the air force from bringing tanks into the city.

The air force opposes the return of Bosch to succeed Donald Reid Cabral, head of a civilian junta ousted over the week-end in bitter fighting.

The rebel-held radio said "the people" were holding the wives and family members of air force pilots as "hostages" to force an end to the air attacks.

A number of pilots' wives spoke on the radio exhorting their husbands to defect to the side of the rebels.

Air force, navy and some army units balked at plans to bring Bosch back to the presidency. He was ousted by a military coup 19 months ago because of alleged "softness" toward Communists and Castroite Marxist-Leninists.

The planes took off in support of Brig. Gen. Eluas Wessin y Wessin, whose tank force is bottled up at the San Isidro airbase outside this capital. Wessin is opposed to Bosch's return, although he apparently had now consented to the removal of the civilian junta headed by Donald Reid Cabral.

The provisional government set up by the rebel military commanders after their takeover Sunday announced that Wessin had been ordered discharged as commander of the armed forces.

In San Juan, Puerto Rico, where Bosch has been in exile, he was reported waiting in his apartment for clarification of the situation in his homeland.

The air force and old guard military elements demanded that a military junta rule this small Caribbean republic which divides the island of Hispaniola with Haiti.

Since dictator Rafael Trujillo was assinated in May 1961, the Dominicans' government has been overturned eight times. Bosch took over Feb. 27, 1963.

Boy Sniper Kills Two Motorists

SANTA MARIA (UPI)—In school, Michael Andrew Clark, 16, was known as a quiet fellow, a good musician, an A student and a "real fine boy."

But Sunday, the saxophone-playing high school junior became the terror of U.S. 101, fatally shooting two motorists, injuring 12 and finally killing himself.

Hiding in tall grass on a sunny hill overlooking the main highway between Los Angeles and San Francisco, Clark blasted away at unsuspecting motorists with an imported rifle equipped with a 4-power telescopic sight, authorities said.

About 50 California highway patrolmen, sheriff's deputies and police were closing in on the youth when he turned the 6.5 mm Swedish Mauser on himself and sent a bullet crashing into his skull.

Before the two-hour reign of terror ended shortly after dawn, two motorists, Joel W. Kocab, 28, West Los Angeles, Calif., and Charles Christopher Hogan, 21, San Luis Obispo, Calif., were dead. Six persons were wounded and six more were cut by shattered vehicle glass.

One of the wounded, Kevin Reida, 5, Norwalk, was taken to Cottage Hospital in Santa Barbara where doctor last night removed a bullet from his brain. The youngster remained in cirtical condition.

Authorities said they were trying to determine why Clark ran away from home last Saturday and what made him stage the hilltop ambush.

Santa Barbara County sheriff's deputies also checked the possibility that Clark might have been involved in similar sniping incidents in other Southern California communities.

Rolland W. Sandberg, Clark's music teacher at Wilson High School in Long Beach was stunned.

"He was such a quiet fellow," Sandberg told newsmen. "He never caused trouble, and he had perfect attendance. Mike was a good musician... an A-level student . . . A real fine boy."

Clark's chum, Mike Brock, 16, Long Beach, said:

"No one can believe it. It doesn't make sense."

Brock said Clark was "one of the last persons, in my mind, who would do a thing like that."

Another friend, Tom Carman, 15, Long Beach, described Clark as always kind of cheerful... just a regular guy."

Several thousand demonstrators chanted anti-American slogans and hurled tomatoes and rocks at the embassy. Windows in the front of the building were smashed.

One demonstrator managed to break into the embassy compound and climb to a second-story balcony, where the Stars and Stripes flew from its staff. To the cheers of his comrades, the demonstrators tore the flag from the staff and hurled it to the ground. The mob clutched at the banner, then trampled it.

Food Stamps Set For Use In Dole

SACRAMENTO (AP) — With the aid of federal money, it will be easier in the future for many of California's poor families to get an adequate supply of food.

Gov. Brown announced yesterday that $2.5 million in federal aid will be included in the state's war on poverty program, and that he will ask the legislature for $20,312 in additional funds to coordinate the new program.

Under the plan, started in Humboldt County on a pilot basis, poor families receive about a third of their food budget through use of federal food stamps.

Undersea Canyon Found In Orient

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U. S. scientists have discovered a drowned valley, far larger in places than the Grand Canyon, one to three miles beneath the Andaman Sea in the Indian Ocean.

The valley is 600 miles long and 25 miles wide and is walled by towering mountains. It extends from the northern tip of Sumatra in the Indonesian Archipelago to Narcondam Island, 250 miles southwest of Rangoon, Burma. Its length is about equivalent to the distance between Washington, D. C., and Chicago.

The Klansmen, dressed in their robes, walked up and down sidewalks, entered stores and bought a few things. One man (right) dressed in a robe of his own showed up carrying a sign that caused laughter in the crowd. (UPI Telephoto)

Handling Of Obscenity Case 'Fair'

BERKELEY (AP)—Four students who publicly flaunted a four-letter obscenity received a fair shake before being suspended from school, says the Emergency Executive Committee of the Academic Senate at the University of California's Berkeley campus.

The senate committee, formed during last fall's Free Speech Movement crisis, said in a statement yesterday that it is "satisfied that the handling of the obscenity cases has been in accordance with due process."

The administration expelled one student and suspended three others last week for proclaiming the word at a busy campus entrance.

The four and six non-students are currently on trial in Berkeley Municipal Court on charges of using obscene language and disturbing the peace during the incident.

Following the administrative ruling, some FSM supporters charged that the decision lacked the due process of a fair hearing. They wired the regents, then meeting in Los Angeles, demanding reinstatement of the quartet by this Wednesday.

In apparent reference to the "deadline" the senate committee stated that "in the present situation, deliberate violation of existing rules would be particularly destructive."

"An attempt to make the flaunting of obscenity a legitimate use of free speech should not divert attention from unresolved issues of real substance," the faculty statement said.

Atlanta Whites Cheer Segregationist March

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — More than 1,000 cheering, sign-waving whites paraded through downtown Atlanta yesterday behind segregationist Lester Maddox, ignoring heavy rain showers, but detouring when a smoke bomb was thrown in their line of march.

Maddox, the former restaurant owner who was the first person convicted under the 1964 Civil Rights Act, set up the march. He said it was to protest governmental takeover of private property rights.

Police said the bomb, which gave off a reddish-pink smoke, was thrown in front of the marchers by an unidentified white man. Few marchers were aware of the incident as a police captain quickly routed them down another street.

Maddox, who spoke to the group later beside a city park, charged that the federal government is enforcing only the portions of the U.S. Constitution "resulting in centralization of government, loss of private property rights and loss of individual freedom."

The balding, 49-year-old segregationist read a petition which he said would be presented to President Johnson and members of Congress. It asked specific sections of the Constitution be enforced.

Maddox indicated that if the petition is ignored, he would stage another Atlanta march and possibly one in Washington.

"The next one in Atlanta could well be 200,000 people," he said, "and a march in Washington, if we have one, may draw two million."

The marchers included men, women and children. Police Capt. J. T. Marler said there were "more than 1,000."

Fists flew briefly at the New York World's Fair yesterday between Congress of Racial Equality pickets and a group of black-jacketed youths who called themselves the "Society for the Prevention of Negroes Getting Everything."

The counterpickets heckled demonstrators, ran back and forth through CORE lines and finally engaged in a flurry of fisticuffs with the pickets.

There was at least one bloody nose but no arrests as the fair's security officers separated the two groups.

The counterpickets who appeared to be 16 and 17 years old, said they wanted to get Negroes out of their Brooklyn High School.

China Targets Picked Out, General Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—A top Air Force missile general says the United States has targets picked out in Red China and destroy key government, command and industrial centers in the event of a general war.

The officer, Maj. Gen. John P. Lavelle, indicated Peking's new nuclear facility was one of those targets.

Lavelle, a deputy chief of staff and director of aerospace programs, testified Feb. 23 on the Air Force budget at a closed hearing of a House Appropriations subcommittee. His censored testimony was made public today.

Lavelle said in reply to questions that the United States, if attacked, would have the capability of simultaneously hitting targets in Red China, the Soviet Union and "a satellite area." He said the missiles would inflict what the Pentagon calls "unacceptably high levels of destruction."

However, he noted Red China's industry "is spread out in small factories everywhere and we would not have the same capacity with the Chinese industry."

But, Lavelle added, "our theater forces should be able to inflict an unacceptable level of destruction" on Red China.

He did not elaborate on what he meant by theater forces. Presumably he was referring to Air Force and other units in the Pacific area rather than to strategic missiles and bombers.

Airplane Hobby At Crisis Point

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — After two and a half years, Andrew T. Johnson finished building an airplane in the basement garage of his San Francisco residence.

"I bought a set of plans. Then I just started out and built her," Johnson told neighbors as he pushed the bright red craft into his driveway.

The entire plane, except for the 125-horsepower engine, is homemade, he said. It has a 27-foot wingspan and is 19 feet long.

Now he has to figure out what to do with it.

Johnson does not know how to fly.

Wirtz Approves Worker Import

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz has approved the importation of 1,500 Mexican farm workers to help harvest asparagus and strawberry crops in San Joaquin and Salinas valleys.

Wirtz announced in Washington yesterday that he had accepted "without qualification" a recommendation by a three-member advisory panel.

Wirtz had appointed the panel to screen California growers' requests for foreign farm labor.

The panel recommended Saturday that Wirtz allow the importation of 1,500 workers for San Joaquin Valley and the Salinas Valley.

The panel also recommended that the growers be allowed to use one thousand Japanese and Filipino workers already in the country.

The San Joaquin Farm Production Association of Stockton and the Growers Farm Labor Association of Salinas had asked to import a total of 6,700 workers. But the panel said available domestic workers could fill the rest of the need.

'Raisin In The Sun' Really Rings Bell

By FRANK FARRARA

The San Geronimo Valley Players ring the bell with their production of "A Raisin in the Sun," and the chief bell-ringer is Hank Brown, who plays the lead like Isaac Stern plays the violin.

Brown strikes the proper chord in every scene, rising to the crescendos with force, romping through the lighter moments and mellowing for the somber moments.

Although Brown is the central figure of a Negro family in Chicago slums reaching for dreams, the production is by no means a one-man show.

Equally notable is the performance of Jody Lea as the mother, who made her first stage appearance in the opening night performance Friday.

Whereas Brown has experience in little theater roles, Mrs. Lea was uninitiated. Growing in confidence and strength as the play progressed, she presented a strong performance.

Standouts in minor roles were Bob Lea, as the fittingly embarrassed representative of a white neighborhood association who tries to bribe the Negro family out of moving into the neighborhood, and Frank Sommer, who has to announce that one of the family's dreams has been stolen.

Pat Barnes brought fire and appropriate rebellious air to her role as the younger sister, and Janet Isaac as the wife reached several high points.

Peter Greenfield, who is alternating with Walter Dickson as a young boy, gave a natural portrayal of the boy, a trick not always accomplished by child actors.

David Isaac and Bill Harner were aptly cast in minor roles.

The play, directed by Stuart Rasmussen, will be presented Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m. at the Woodacre Improvement Club.

The single disconcerting note during the opening night performance was the attendance of a score or more of youngsters, from ages of 9 or 10 to early teens, who giggled during serious scenes and unnerved the actors.

YOUNG PICKETS SUPPORT LBJ ON VIET NAM

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House was the scene of a different type of Viet Nam picketing Saturday.

Some 100 young people, most of them wearing buttons of the Young Americans for Freedom, paraded in support of the administration's policy in Viet Nam.

A week earlier, pickets marched at the White House in condemnation of this nation's Viet Nam activities.

Uppman Will Open Music Chest Series

The 1965 summer concert season of the Marin Music Chest will open with a recital by Metropolitan Opera Baritone Theodore Uppman June 13 instead of June 20 as originally announced, Music Chest officials said Saturday.

Added the concert series is the performance of the 60-member New Zealand Concert Band and six Maori dancers August 14 at 3 p.m. in Forest Meadows at Dominican College in San Rafael.

Wrong-Side Riders Knocked Off Bikes

Two Marin County youngsters were injured Saturday when they were knocked off their bicycles by cars in separate accidents.

The California Highway Patrol said both were riding on the wrong side of the road.

Scott Ballinger, 7, of 15 Corte Alegre, Greenbrae, was struck at the junction of McAllister and Lilac avenues, Kentfield, at about 7:30 p.m. and sustained leg and chin cuts. He was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Gisela Bohns, 41, of 132 McAllister Avenue, Kentfield, was driver. She said she did not see the boy before the accident.

Catherine Elizabeth Wilkinson, 10, of 277 Fairway Drive, Novato, sustained slight leg cuts when she rode into the path of a car at the exit of Burge's Drive-In Restaurant at 6017 Redwood Highway, Ignacio.

She was treated at Novato General Hospital. Driver of the car was Edgar Allen Cooper, 47, of 42 Selfridge Way, Hamilton Air Force Base.

Mill Valley Church Plan Is Outlined

A 12-sided, one story brick building with a soaring roof and copper steeple with a 100-foot high cross is planned for the new Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church in Mill Valley.

Also in the plan, as recommended by city planning staff, is abandonment of a portion of Oakdale Avenue from a point near the school to West Blithedale Avenue to develop a better building site.

Under this proposal, recommended last November to city council for approval by the planning commission, traffic would be re-routed off Oakdale onto Hill Street and Buena Vista Avenue.

The planning commission is to set a hearing on the proposed abandonment at its 8 p.m. meeting tomorrow.

Napthali Knox, community planner for University of California, will speak on non-conforming signs for commercial areas, and city planning director Harvey E. Bragdon will discuss the city's general plan.

Peacock Gap Area Subject Of Session

Past, present and future of the Peacock Gap area will be the theme at a meeting of the Peacock Gap Homeowners Assn. scheduled for 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Peacock Room of the clubhouse.

Mrs. L. P. McNear, Donald Merik and Samuel Wright Jr. will speak.

have conceded the presence of North Vietnamese soldiers in South Viet Nam but have maintained they were distributed among Viet Cong guerrilla units rather than fighting separately.

Today's confirmed report came just after Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, North Viet Nam's defense minister and chief strategist, returned to Hanoi from a visit to Moscow.

Some observers felt the timing of the announcement might be a subtle warning to the Soviet Union that its support for the Hanoi regime could lead to Russian involvement in North Vietnamese efforts to escalate the war to a more conventional plane.

Fort he first time yesterday, the Viet Cong launched a conventional attack against American combat troops in South Viet Nam, hitting two small U.S. Marine outposts near Phu Bai airbase in the vicinity of the city of Hue north of Da Nang.

Two Marines and at least two guerrillas were killed in the bitter pre-dawn battle and four Americans were wounded.

Sausalito Diners Pay Most Taxes

Sausalito's eating and drinkers spas still account for the major share of all taxable sales within the city, City Mgr. Charles A. Brown said today.

The 1964 total of $5,298,000 represents nearly 35 per cent of all sales during the year. It was 33.8 per cent of the 1963 total. The average annual growth of sales in Sausalito is 12 per cent, Brown reported.

The 1963 increase over 1962 was 10 per cent while the 1964 growth of sales over 1963 was only 7.2 per cent.

The 1964 fourth quarter increase of five per cent was the smallest fourth quarter growth in the past six years.

His Office Helps Red Defectors

By EDWARD J. MOWERY
Advance News Service

NEW YORK — A few steps from the superficial glitter of Broadway, real life drama without fanfare unfolds day after day in the tiny office of A. G. Elmendorf.

They successfully penetrated the iron curtain, defected under the nose of secret police and touched base with Elmendorf, who holds the key to their happiness and prosperity in free America.

Since 1960, Elmendorf, assisted by his secretary Tina Bowroski, 27, has welcomed 187 Soviet bloc families to his 42nd Street office. Miss Bowroski, born in Russia, was brought here as a child and is a citizen. Like the "boss," she is a linguist.

Complementing the work in New York is the organization's screening office in Frankfurt, Germany, directed by John E. Riley, a Bostonian. His staff includes four Germans and two Russians, all experts in various languages.

How did the "American Friends" originate and what's its mission?

Elmendorf, who directed postwar refugee programs in Trieste and Greece for the World Council of Churches, explained:

"We started in 1952 as American Fighters for Russian Freedom—a propaganda agency which correctly interpreted 'news' from Pravda. Three years later, became 'friends' of Russian Freedom and broadened our operations.

"Our Mission, both here and in Germany, is to try to integrate cases from iron curtain countries locally (in Europe), or bring them to the Unitel States if they have potential.

"These are people who have been processed by U. S. military intelligence in Camp King (near Munich). And before they arrive here, I get a complete dossier on them. We are responsible for them. I try to get them jobs and see to their needs until they're located."

Elmendorf, a native of Jersey City, N. J., said 80 per cent of the group's European expenses come from the State Department's escapee program. The cost in 1964 totaled $108,000. Expenses last year in New York approximated $45,000.

"We get no government financial help here, however," Elmendorf said. "I have many friends—some in the oil business in Texas—who are interested in our work and support it. We work. I might add, on a fairly thin budget.

"We have just closed, incidentally, a program to help Russians who have been working in Belgian coal mines. Originally, they numbered about 12,000 men who fought with the Germans under Soviet Gen. I. Volsiov, an anti-Communist who defected and reputedly took 1,000,000 men with him. They fought on the Eastern front."

The Russian defectors moved frantically west as the Soviet armies closed in, finally landing in prison and refugee camps.

To defeat repatriation, many took Polish names in the camps. But thousands, it is believed, were returned to the Soviet Union.

"None knows what happened to them," Elmendorf said. "They sort of disappeared. The Russians who were left, through arrangements with the Belgium government, were given work in coal mines. And in 1957, we started to receive hundreds of letters from Russians (seeking help) in Belgium."

Elmendorf said he opened an office in Brussels and began screening applications. From a case load of 3,200 families, about 800 were given housing, clothing, medicine and food with State Department help.

"Up to 1960," he said, "our major effort was toward integration of these people in Europe, principally in Germany. Then we started to bring selected applicants here. The first was a Russian woman. She just received her American citizenship."

Last year, the "American Friends" brought in 29 iron curtain families, the majority of whom were Czechs. The rest came from various Red bloc countries. Two musicians, who defected in Tokyo in August, were Russians.

"Russians," Elmendorf declared, "are the most difficult to settle. Because of their regimentation under Soviet rule, they're hard to assimilate, more demanding. Of course, most Russian defectors in Germany aren't the type we would bring to the United States."

He pulled folders from a pile on his desk and told of two Czechs who received fine jobs shortly after their arrival.

One, a 39-year-old computer expert, landed a $17,000-a-year job with an electronics firm the day after his March 25 arrival. He was the second Czech scientist hired by the same firm. The first applicant get $21,000.

"I believe," Elmendorf said with a smile, "that these men had something to do with tracking satellites behind the iron curtain."

'Samaritan' Stray Fawn's Worst Foe

Don't take apparently abandoned fawns from their natural habitat, Mrs. Clara Evans, acting director of the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum warned today.

"Persons who do so, thinking they are doing a good deed, are merely lessening the fawn's chances for survival," she declared.

Last year 12 fawns were brought to the museum by children and adults who had found them "abandoned" in Marin's wooded areas.

"Only three of them survived the year. When we let them go, we had to be sure there was a rancher nearby who would provide food for them everyday because they were unable to fend for themselves," Mrs. Evans said.

"It is not unusual for a doe to leave her fawn by itself for several hours. She is teaching it to take care of itself.

"In most cases it is more cruel to take the fawn from its natural home and endanger its health with improper food than to leave it alone," she said.

ney's investigator, said he will take the alleged murder weapon to the Criminal Investigation and Identification Bureau in Sacramento today or tomorrow for tests.

Results, he said, will not be known for several days.

Canning started work at the prison March 1, 1963. Sanchez first entered the prison in 1954 on a six months to 14 year sentence for burglary.

He was paroled in December of 1956, but returned in June of 1957 for another burglary conviction. Later, in May of 1959, he was convicted in Marin Superior Court of assault with a deadly weapon on another inmate and given a six months to 10 years sentence.

He was paroled in June of 1963, but returned in December of that year on a parole violation.

In April of 1964 he was convicted of selling narcotics and given a 5-to-life sentence.

Vandals Wreak $5,000 Damage

Young vandals did about $5,000 damage to the Mariner Green townhouses, under construction on Prince Royal Drive in Corte Madera, during the weekend, police reported.

Rocks were thrown through many windows and four sliding glass doors were smashed. Inside the buildings, holes were kicked in plyboard wall and thermostats were ripped off walls. Rocks and gravel were strewn about the floors.

Police said it was impossible to catch youngsters in the area because a patrol can be seen far away coming down Paradise Drive. They added that the owners have been asked to supply a wachman.

Flood-Hit Schools Aid Up To Governor

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill offering $250,000 in state aid to schools in flood-stricken Northern California was sent to Gov. Brown today by the Assembly.

The measure, by Assemblyman Frank P. Belotti, R-Eureka, authorizes school districts in designated flood disaster areas to apply for the funds by June 15.

High-Fi Taken In Mill Valley

Missing, he said, are a radio tuner, one dozen records, an electric frying pan and toaster and a box of tools.

that three of them were destroyed.

Pakistan said the fighting resulted from an outbreak of firing by Indian troops.

"Pakistan had to take switf retaliatory action last night in the Chad Bet area of the Rann of Kutch following repeated firing on its positions by the Indian army," a government spokesman said. He said Indian guns were silenced, with heavy Indian casualties.

The United States was reported pressing for an immediate cease-fire and resumption of talks on the territorial dispute.

British India was partitioned into sovereign India and Pakistan in 1947, but the frontier along the Rann of Kutch was never marked. It is a barren salt waste, flooded during the monsoon season. Reports of oil deposits under the wasteland have given it new importance.

The Rann of Kutch is approximately 120 miles southeast of Karachi.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told newsmen yesterday: "Pakistan is creating a very serious situation and the government of India will meet it. India must resist and must stop these moves. We may have to face a difficult situation but we cannot afford to sit quiet and not defend our frontiers with all the strength at our command."

Chavan repeated India's earlier charge that Pakistan is mobilizing its entire armed forces following a series of heavy clashes which broke out Friday.

A Pakistani Defense Ministry spokesman said in Karachi that a report broadcast by All-India Radio that Pakistan had ordered mobilization was "baseless and mere fabrication."

No-Contest Plea On Tryst Charge

Kenneth Stewart Grove, 32, former Marinwood resident, pleaded no-contest today in Marin Superior Court to a count of statutory rape of a 15-year-old high school girl.

Judge Thomas F. Keating dismissed two other similar counts on recommendation of Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales and scheduled judgment for 10 a.m. on May 17.

Grove, now living at 56 Dominican Drive, San Rafael, allegedly had sexual relations with the girl in a rented Santa Venetia house starting last September.

Operator of a San Francisco floor covering firm. He is married and has three children.

Guilty Plea In Church Burglary

Guilty plea to grand theft of about $1,225 from St. Hilary's Catholic Church in Tiburon last March 17 was entered in Marin Superior Court today by Stanley McKinney, 28, former church employee.

Judgment was scheduled May 17 by Judge Thomas F. Keating

McKinney, arrested at his Hilarita Housing Project apartment last April 5, had waived preliminary hearing in Marin Municipal Court and the grand theft information complaint was filed today by Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales.

Too-Slow Motorists May Face Tickets

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly today authorized a state study of the possibility of enforcing minimum speeds on highways and expressways.

The lower house adopted a resolution by Assemblyman Richard Donovan, R-Chula Vista, authorizing pilot studies at unspecified sites. The tests will involve posting minimum speed limits in the various lanes of multi-lane roads.

Vacant Cottage Burns To Ground

A vacant wooden cottage due for demolition at 382 Shoreline Highway, Tamalpais Valley, was destroyed by fire Saturday. It was owned by Marin Home Investment Co. of Mill Valley.

Tamalpais Fire Department got the call from a passerby at 10:10 p.m. When firemen arrived the cottage was engulfed in flames.

Milford (Mo) O. Crader, 54, of Oroville, former San Rafael resident, died yesterday in a local hospital after a short illness.

A native of Missouri, he had lived in Marin County about 10 years until three years ago when he, as a construction foreman, was transfered to Pakistan by his employer, Guy F. TV Cable Firm Denied Permit For Two Poles

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill today denied a use permit asked by Clear View Cable Systems for two 30-foot poles next to 956 Vernal Avenue in Tamalpais Valley.

Neighbors had protested installation of the poles.

Clear View will have seven days in which to appeal the ruling to the county planning commission.

Cordill said he intended to grant a use permit to American Helicopters Corp. for a helicopter taxi service and training school at the Lodge north of Novato.

He will make his official ruling Thursday after listing conditions for the use permit.

Councilmen See City High, Low

Sausalito city councilmen toured high and low in the city Saturday. They viewed Cloud View Trail but no action is now needed since G. J. Elkington, who proposed abandoning a portion of the trail, has withdrawn his request.

The council, all present, looked at South Street playground, Richardson Bay tennis courts and the corporation yard.

Touring the boardwalk paralleling Humboldt Street at Sausalito Yacht Harbor, they noted, according to Vice Mayor Melvin S. Wax, that cars obstruct pedestrians from walking the full boardwalk. The council plans to suggest that City Mgr. Charles A. Brown investigate ways to install railroad ties or other means to keep parked cars off the walk.

Boy Scout Mending From Rattler's Bite

Bennett King, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. King of 29 Glen Court, Sausalito, was reported "doing fine" at Marin General Hospital today after being bitten on his right thumb by a rattlesnake yesterday at Camp Tamarancho near Fairfax.

His mother said he and fellow scouts with Boy Scout troop 8 were "hunting for lizards" while on an overnight camping trip.

Motorcycle Clouted

Patrick E. Pendleton yesterday reported someone had stolen the headlight from his motorcycle parked at his home at 653 Redwood Avenue, Corte Madera. He said the thief had also damaged the bike's kickstand.

MINIATURE MISSIONS — Fourth graders at Deer Park School in Fairfax have constructed models of California's historic missions — including of course, Mission San Rafael. They will be on display from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. today as the school's exhibit in Public Schools Week. Here, pupil James Putnam shows his model to Vanessa Gardner, while Cynthia Carter points out its location on a big California map for the benefit of teacher James Schneider. Each flag on the map represents a mission.

Final Marin Symphony's Fare Light

By MAYBELLE SPECKMAN

The Marin Symphony Orchaestra, playing last night at Marin Catholic High School, closed its thirteenth and by far its most enterprising season — the tenth for music director and conductor Sandor Salgo.

It was not, however, its most brilliant concert, despite the sensational performance of the Beethoven Concerto for Violin and Orchestra, Op. 61, featuring violinist Eudice Shapiro. This rated a well deserved standing ovation.

Except for the concert, the program as a whole, though it had moments of gaiety and sprightliness, was rather light, perhaps just the thing for a warm spring evening. It was marked more by serenity and lyricism than excitement and brilliance.

Miss Shapiro, playing with extraordinary vigor and assurance and dazzling technique as well as a cantabile tone of crystalline clarity and sweetness, was the most outstanding woman violinist we have ever heard. Her trills were marvels of precision, delicacy and speed.

Apparently at the peak of mature artistry, she plays with the ease that is the acme of the art that conceals art.

Salgo controlled the orchiestra with such finesse that it was like the fine setting that shows off the jewel.

Respikhi's "Antiche Danze Ed Arie per Liuto," a suite of charming dance vignettes featuring the harp played by Beverly Bellows and harpsichord by Margaret Fabrizio, also offered some lovely solo passages for cellist Jean Maguire and oboist Ray Duste. Orchiestral volume, however, was a little heavy at times for the delicacy of the harp and harpsichord.

The vilanella of this group was especially beautiful.

Prokofier's Classical Symphony, Op. 25, though not in his most typical style, provided some rhythmic and harmonic stimulation.

The concert opened with the serenely lilting "Fingal's Cave" overture by Mendelssohn.

Novato's Master Plan On Display

A glimpse at the Novato Master Plan, scheduled to be presented to the city today, shows a plan for the city to grow into an area from south of Hamilton Air Force Base to the Sonoma County line.

The plan was prepared by the Marin County planning staff under a $82,680 contract with the city. It was originally scheduled for completion last December, but the city granted the county four months extension for completion.

Area covered by the plan is the same as that of the original North Marin Master Plan. It includes roughly the same areas as the Novato Fire district.

The Marin County Public Works Department, the Novato Sanitary District and the North Marin County Water District all participated in aerial photographic mapping, which amounted to nearly half of the cost of the project.

Text of the plan shows that it foresees 165,000 people living in 50,200 housing units.

These homes will be served, it predicts, by the main Grant Avenue business district and 11 shopping centers. The Nave shopping center, Novato Fair shopping center and Triangle shopping area all are treated as part of the Grant Avenue complex.

The plan sets aside 1,900 acres for industrial purposes. Of this, 1,400 acres now are marshland. The sites are along the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks and are located in the southern and northern sections of the city.

A six acre library site is called for between Marin Avenue and Center Road near Seventh Street.

Park phase of the plan calls for 100 acres of parks for every 45,000 people, and a neighborhood playground for every 800 people, a total of 2,800 acres of parks.

The plan proposes to divide the city into nine park districts with one park in each district.

Future Novato civic center would need eight acres or more, according to the master plan. It proposes five sites. They are the present site; on Redwood Highway north of Olive; on the highway at Novato Creek; on Seventh Street at Novato Boulevard and east of the railroad at the De Long Street extension.

The street plan is basically the same as at present. It shows a connection of Ignacio Boulevard and Indian Valley Road into Wilson Avenue as a major through street, and proposes an east-west highway to start north of San Marin Drive, going to meet Novato Boulevard. Another east-west street would be Burdell, north of the Marin County Airport.

First meeting on the plan will be a joint session between the Novato Planning Commission and the county planning commission so the county planning staff can explain its details.

Blouse Gives Clue To Thefts From 2 Coeds

Lynda Jordan, whose apartment was burglarized during the Easter vacation, told San Anselmo police yesterday that a woman entering a house across the street appeared to be wearing a blouse taken in the burglary at 770 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Today, police had one man in jail and were seeking a warrant for a second. Also, citations were due to be issued to a 16-year-old boy and three girls, two 14 and one 15.

Police said one of the 14-year-old girls had admitted finding the key to the apartment occupied by Miss Jordan and Candace Bruchler, both College of Marin students, and that several persons had entered the apartment during Easter week.

Clothing, records, a record player, jewelry and a guitar were reported stolen. Total loss was set at $700.

In custody was Peter A. Wadlewski, 20, of 42 Tamalpais Avenue, Fairfax, held in Marin County jail in lieu of $550 bail and due to appear in Marin Municipal Court today on a burglary charge.

Police said they were seeking a warrant to arrest Robert G. Lezzini, 19, of 3 Deer Park Lane, Fairfax, on a similar charge.

The relatives of th 14-year-old girl who talked to police said the record player had been smashed and dumped into a nearby creek, and that the guitar had also been smashed and burned. Records had, in some cases, been given away to friends, as had some of the clothing.

Teacher Pay On Kentfield Board Agenda

Kentfield School District trustees tonight will consider such touchy subjects as elimination of school bus service and cutting back on teacher pay raises in the wake of last Tuesday's election.

The meeting is set for 7:45 p.m. at Wolfe Grade School. The board also will decide whether to junk the summer school program for this year and hold off on planned expansion of the foreign language program.

Finally, board members will decide whether to call another election to seek the 25 cent increase in the general purpose tax rate turned down Tuesday.

Supt. Howard C. Harmon said the tax would have brought in about $62,500 in new revenue. Part of the money would have been used to hire a principal and vice principals. That $25,000 item, he said, will be dropped.

Harmon said no other single change would balance the books in next year's budget, but a combination of items would do so. He said bus service, although a minor item, may be dropped since it does not affect the school program.

Final plans for new construction are expected to be approved by the board, and preliminary plans for a parking lot at Wolfe Grade School will be reviewed.

Weekend Rains Add Midwest Flood Woes

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Muddy floodwater rolled through an industrial area of Rock Island, Ill., today as volunteers labored to keep the swirling Mississippi River from rushing into a residential section.

City officials feared a three-mile earthen dike would break, sending the water into a 300-home housing project of 1,200 residents.

The floodwaters, which have driven more than 60,000 persons from their homes in three states, were fed by heavy rains over the weekend.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said the worst is still to come.

The flood crest of the Mississippi moving downstream from Dubuque, Iowa, will combine with the flow from tributaries to produce more floods by next weekend, the Weather Bureau said.

The floods will occur from Keokuk, Iowa, through Hannibal, Mo., the bureau said. "This will be a critical flood situation for the entire area and local officials and the public should take steps to prepare for the rises."

The Quad Cities area in Illinois and Iowa with a combined population of 250,000 was the prime danger spot. The area is composed of Moline, Rock Island and East Moline, Ill., and Davenport, Iowa.

In Rock Island, workers labored around the clock to reinforce the earthen dam, the only protection for the housing complex. Most residents had been evacuated after a warning from Mayor Forrest Muhleman that water was seeping through the dike. More than 1,000 volunteers worked with Army engineers to reinforce the levee.

Another dike broke in Rock Island yesterday, covering the equivalent of a 54-block industrial area with six feet of water. The 400 residents had been evacuated.

The latest reading of the waters in Rock Island, a city of 51,000 in the northwestern corner of Illinois near the Iowa border, was 21 feet. Flood stage is 15 feet. A crest of 22½ feet is expected Tuesday or Wednesday.

One-third of East Moline's 2,000 residents have been evacuated.

More than 20 blocks of the city's Watertown area are under water.

An official said that 166 of 188 houses in an East Moline housing authority were inundated.

Volunteers reinforced an emergency dike to hold the flood waters from Moline's water plant. Officials feared the quarter-mile dike might break, knocking out the water supply for the city's 48,000 residents.

Mayor James Arndt of Moline urged residents to store enough water for a week.

In Bettendorf, Iowa, across the river from East Moline, officials said the town's only levee covering one side of the community would not hold. Many of the town's 11,500 persons worked on reinforcing the levee.

In Davenport, Iowa, workmen waded through waist-deep water to remove mechanisms from parking meters so they would not rust when the crest hits.

The river apparently leveled in Dubuque. The rain-soaked Dubuque dikes held as the river reached its apparent crest nearly 10 feet above flood stage.

"I am confident we have this thing licked," said Mayor Robert Horgan of Dubuque. "We are going to win."

Damage in Illinois was estimated by Gov. Otto Kerner at $30 million.

Marin City Youth Jailed As Deserter

A 19-year-old Marin City man, arrested yesterday in Mill Valley, admitted desertion from the Army, and said, "it took long enough for you to catch up with me."

David Lee Arvilla of 419 Drake Avenue was booked in county jail and charged with desertion. The Federal Bureau of Investigation was notified.

Police received a call at 10:33 p.m. from John Aurely of 359 Idleberry Road, Marinwood, who said there was a car parked in front of his parents home at 516 Summit Avenue. The three occupants, when asked if they needed help, acted suspicious, Aurely said..

Police brought Arvilla, accompanied by youths from Sausalito and Mill Valley, to the police station after stopping their car at Summit and Cornelia avenues. While in the station a sheriff's deputy told police he thought Arvilla to be a deserter from Fort Ord.

"That'h right," said Arvilla. "But it took long enough for you to catch up with me."

He has been AWOL since March 16.

Welfare Aide Sees Decline In Red Tape

The burden of written forms and reports required of counties in administering federal and state welfare programs may be eased.

Betty L. Pressley, head of the Marin County Department of Social Service, had interviews last week with Dr. Ellen Winston, commissioner of welfare in the Department of Health Education and Welfare, and Frederick Steininger, head of the bureau of family services in the department.

Miss Pressley said both the Washington officials were sympathetic to the complaint on reporting requirements. The complaint is not new to them since many counties are having the same difficulty in meeting requirements that are often set one way for the federal government, even on the same program.

Miss Pressley was in Washington for a workshop session called by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare on group welfare services.

Special Meeting Set

Sausalito Recreation Commissioners will hold a special meeting at 8 p.m. at City Hall tomorrow to discuss the possibility of conducting a summer tennis instruction program, James E. Muldoon, commissioner, said today.

Ross Police Sell Unclaimed Bikes

Thirteen unclaimed bicycles were auctioned for $59.50 by the Ross Police Department Saturday, Asst. Chief John Harris said today.

"About 15 people showed up to bid on the bikes at 9 a.m. at the corporation yard and after 90 minutes, most of them had purchased a bicycle," he said.

Highest bid received by auctioneers Harris and Police Chief Joseph J. Regoni was $15. One bidder walked away with a bike for 50 cents.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The third annual conference of the National Committee for the Support of the Public Schools opened here today with the theme "the public school and the life of the community."

Boat Aground, Party Goes On

A party boat with 250 persons aboard ran aground in shallow waters at the opening of the San Rafael canal into the bay late Saturday night. The party continued there until the boat was pulled free nearly four hours later.

The passengers, a group of San Jose bank employees, had chartered the 65-foot boat—the Harbor Princess—from Harbor Tours in San Francisco.

As it left the canal, the stern of the vessel ran aground in shallow waters. It was finally pulled free by one of the company's own tugs.

Novato School Districts Face Triple-Barrel Session

There will be three meetings of school boards in the Novato Unified School District tonight.

At 7:45 p.m., the old Novato Unified School District board will hold a special meeting in the administration building to request state approval for the Novato High School lecture hall building, omitted from present plans for remodeling.

At the same time, the San Jose district board will have a special closed meeting at Lynwood School to discuss a personnel matter.

At 8 p.m., the new Novato Unified School District board will hold its regular meeting in the administration building.

The main items on its agenda are teachers' salaries for next school year and the building program.

The trustees will discuss the application for the lecture hall at the high school, the Hamilton School to be constructed on the Meadow Park school site, status of the Marin Oaks elementary school site and possible additions to Hill and San Jose junior high schools.

Other items include insurance for the new district, the Olive Avenue Assessment District, boundaries of the junior high schools and the recreation agreement with the City of Novato.

Before leaving, Chou called on President Sukarno, who later told newsmen they discussed the forthcoming second Afro-Asian conference scheduled to be held in Algiers next June.

Anti-Religious Russ Penwoman Criticized

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's official atheist magazine has publicly criticized one of the country's most virulent antireligious propagandists for insulting religious believers.

The magazine Science and Religion published a letter from three of its editors yesterday which said that Alla Tribnikova was "doing harm to atheist education" with her widely published, venomous attacks on religious believers.

Bay 'Kidnap' Admitted As Just A Hoax

PINOLE (UPI) — A tale of kidnaping by two Mexicans and a beautiful girl on San Pablo Bay was just so much bunk, Herman Lee Cochrane, 24, has admitted to police.

The real reason Cochrane and Ansel Ray Handy, 27, both Richmond service station operators, disappeared from a fishing trip about a month ago was that they wanted to become Arkansas dirt farmers.

Cochrane told police here, investigating the burning of the pair's boat on the mudflats of the bay, that the two men had tired of their lives as service station operators.

After striking out for Arkansas, Cochran and Handy doubled back to Van Nuys. Cochrane said he wanted to return to his wife and children so he invented the kidnaping tale.

Handy's whereabouts remained unknown.

Police said no charges would be filed against either man.

League Discussion

Formation of a Mill Valley auxiliary of the Marin Conservation League will be discussed at 7:45 p.m. tonight in the board room of the Mill Valley School District, 26 Miller Avenue.

New Discovery Now Makes It Possible to Shrink And Heal Hemorrhoids Without Surgery

Stops Itch — Relieves Pain In Minutes

New York, N. Y. (Special): A world-famous institute has discovered a new substance which has the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids without surgery. The sufferer first notices almost unbelievable relief in minutes from itching, burning and pain. Then this substance speeds up healing of the injured tissues all while it quickly reduces painful swelling.

Tests conducted under a doctor's observations proved this so — even in cases of 10 to 20 years' standing. The secret is the new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — now offered in both ointment or suppository form called Preparation H®.

In addition to actually shrinking piles — Preparation H lubricates and makes bowel movements less painful. It helps to prevent infection (a principal cause of hemorrhoids).

Only Preparation H contains this magic new substance which quickly helps heal injured cells back to normal and stimulates regrowth of healthy tissue again. Just ask for Preparation H Ointment or Preparation H Suppositories (easier to use away from home). Available at all drug counters.

Russ Repeat Charge U.S. Using Gas

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched a general attack on U.S. foreign policy, including U.S. oprations in Viet Nam, and accused the United States of using "nuclear blackmail" against countries of Southeast Asia.

The attack was made before the 114-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission by Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko, who charged the United States was trying to hinder disarmament talks while leading the world in a "mad arms race."

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson said he would reply.

Fedorenko repeated Soviet charges that the United States had used toxic gases in Viet Nam and asserted this was "a crime against mankind, a violation of the norms of international law, and the trampling of the elementary procedures of morality."

He declared further that the United States had nuclear submarines in the Southeast Asia area, as well as missiles with nuclear warheads. He suggested that the United States is now regarding "another Asian country" as an objective of the same kind of weapons used against Nagasaki and Hiroshima during World War II. This seemed to be an obvious reference to possible use of nuclear weapons in the Viet Nam war.

Fedorenko demanded the dismantling of all foreign military bases and the withdrawal of military forces from foreign soil.

Paychecks On Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's per capita personal income increased $102 during 1964. Only three states all in the Northern Plains farming area, showed declines. They were in South Dakota, 7 per cent; North Dakota, less than 1 per cent; and Montana, 1 per cent.

Court Will Examine Rights Murder Cases

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today agreed to interpret two 1870 laws which the Justice Department has been unsuccessfully invoking in civil rights murders in the South.

In brief orders, the court agreed to examine government charges against 17 Mississippians in connection with the 1964 murder of three civil rights workers.

The case will be argued next fall or winter and decided later by written opinion.

The department had urged streamlined handling of the Mississippi case this term. That request was turned down on March 15.

The victims were Michael H. Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both white and from New York; and James E. Chaney, 21, a Meridian, Miss., Negro. Their bodies were found near Philadelphia, Miss., on June 21, 1964.

Because murder is not a federal crime, the government has resorted to the 1870 statutes in such cases. The laws were originally designed to protect newly freed slaves in the exercise of voting and other rights.

Federal district Judge W. Harold Cox of Jackson on Feb. 25 threw out the most serious count against the 17 Mississippi the constitution or laws of the men. The law invoked makes it a felony to conspire to injure "any citizen in the free exercise or enjoyment of any right or privilege secured to him by the constitution or laws of the United States." There is a maximum penalty of 10 years in jail and a $5,000 fine.

The issue focuses on the word "right." Cox found it to mean only a federally created right, such as the right to vote in a federal election. The department insists that "right" also encompasses the freedoms — free speech, press and the like — protected against abridgement by the states through the 14th Amendment.

The Supreme Court split 4 to 4 on this question in 1951.

Six Georgians said by the FBI to be active in the Ku Klux Klan were indicted last year under the same law in the fatal shooting of Negro educator Lemuel A. Penn. They were freed on Dec. 29, 1964, by federal district Judge William A. Bootle in Athens, Ga., also on the ground that the law does not cover the offense charged.

Meantime, four Alabamans have been arrested under the same statute following the highway murder of Mrs. Viola Liuzzo, after the recent Selma, Ala., voting rights march.

In other action, the court:

Threw out lower court orders requiring two organizations to register as Communist fronts with the Justice Department. The high court held that the record on the two groups had become "stale." The organizations were the Veterans of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade and the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born.

Struck down registration requirements in a 1962 Louisiana anti-subversive law which was challenged as a device to harrass civil rights workers. Any person with membership in what the law considered a subversive organization was required to register with the state's Department of Public Safety if he remained in the state five consecutive nights.

Heavy Agenda Faces Council In Tiburon

Tiburon city councilmen face a varied, and probably long meeting tonight.

The council session starts at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School.

One of the first orders of business will be election of a mayor for a one year term. Gordon W. Strawbridge has been mayor since the city was incorporated last June 22.

Councilmen will consider a recommendation from City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose that the city take over the merchant-operated parking lot at Tiburon Boulevard and Marin Street.

The lot is leased from Southern Pacific Railroad and accommodates about 200 cars. Rose estimates that "improvement" of the lot, including paving and construction of a plaza type traffic separator at the intersection would cost about $20,000.

Councilmen will consider asking their planning commission to study "disposal" of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way, along tracks which run next to Richardson Bay. Reversionary rights to the property are owned by private individuals. The railroad, earlier asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for permission to abandon the Tiburon line, but was turned down.

The long standing argument over whether the Belvedere Tennis Club lights cause glare to neighboring homes is on the agenda, as is a proposal to dissolve the Tiburon and Belveron Gardens lighting districts and have the city take them over, at an expected reduction of district taxes.

LEATHERNECKS INVADE SOUTH MARIN'S SHORE

The Marines landed yesterday at Fort Cronkhite.

About 208 of them in a dozen amphibious assault vehicles poured out of the nose of the Polk County, a landing ship-tank from San Diego, then motored to the beach, fired about 70 blank rounds and returned to their ship.

The exercise, which took about four hours, was termed "successful and beneficial" by Capt. John A. Eskam, inspector-instructor with the Second Armored Amphibian Co., U.S. Marine Corps Reserve. There were no injuries, he said.

About 500 spectators were kept off the beach during the "mock war" at the edge of Rodeo Lagoon. The reserve company is commanded by Maj. George R. Killam of Richmond.

Court To Take Hand In Child's Runaways

Oftimes missing Dyana Lynn Apel, 8-year-old Kent Woodlands girl, has been cited through her parents to appear at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in the county juvenile probation office on a charge of lack of parental control.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sapia, 110 Diablo Drive, were notified by sheriff's juvenile officers that they must show at the appearance why the girl should not be made a ward of the court.

Harvey Teague, sheriff's juvenile inspector, said he had contacted the mother, Sharon, several times, but there has been no apparent solution to halting the girl's disappearances.

She was reported missing Thursday night and was found hiding under a friend's porch in Larkspur the following morning. Last March 30 she was gone 24 hours, with a 100-man searching party called out.

On Dec. 6 she and her brother, Brian, 4, disappeared and were later found under the front porch of their own home.

Girl's Murder Probe Centers On Peninsula

Investigation in the Good Friday murder of a 16-year-old Daly City girl whose body was found later in Mount Tamalpais State Park continued today to center in the San Francisco-Daly City area.

Marin sheriff's officers said no trace has been found of Virgilio Restauro, 24, San Francisco dishwasher and boy friend of the victim, Nonita Vicera. He disappeared from his job the same Friday and has been charged with the murder.

Sheriff's Inspector Marco Melovich said officers are seeking to trace activities of the girl and Restauro the morning of the murder. They are attempting to learn where she left a San Francisco bus on a reported Easter shopping trip, and where Restauro was prior to the check-in of his 1959 model Thunderbird car at a San Francisco garage about noon on that Friday.

The girl died of six stab wounds of the head. The body was dumped on a steep hill just below Panoramic Highway in Marin County.

Your old roof is just the place to put a new roof of Red Cedar Handsplit Shakes.

See?

Any home that's given a new roof of red cedar handsplit shakes is never quite the same again. The most obvious improvement is appearance. But that's only the beginning. The fact is that financing agencies look on a red cedar roof as an excellent long-term investment. Red Cedar shakes are durable, even in violent extremes of weather. They're light in weight, but extremely strong. And they're good insulators (which helps hold the lid on your heating and air conditioning costs). So whether you're planning to sell your home, refinance, or live in it for decades to come, a roof of red cedar handsplit shakes could more than repay its cost. Ask your architect. Ask your builder. Ask your bank.

Steel Industry May Raise Offer

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The steel industry was reported ready today to raise its offer of a two-per cent pay hike for the United Steelworkers Union in exchange for a strike postponement.

It was the first time negotiators for 11 major steel companies were reported ready to sweeten the pot in their high-stakes poker game with the union.

The development came amid signs of strong pressure from the Johnson administration, which believes a strike would be a disaster to the nation's booming economy.

There was no indication of just how much the industry was willing to boost the ante to postpone Saturday's 12:01 a.m. strike deadline.

The industry's previous 2 per cent offer, estimated as amounting to 5 to 7 cents, is a long way from union demands totaling 17.9 cents an hour.

While the industry's new offer was worked out in secret, top administration officials in Washington warned a steel strike would take the steam out of the economic boom for which President Johnson claims major credit.

At the same time, it was learned, the steel industry warned the administration that in boosting its money offer for labor peace, it will almost certainly have to raise steel prices.

While the Johnson administration would prefer no price hikes that might boost most other living costs, it is believed this would be more acceptable to the White House than an economy-crippling strike.

Two Cabinet members, Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor and Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, emphasized in Washington radio-television interviews the administration's deep concern over a possible steel strike. Connor said it would be disastrous to the economy, and Fowler said a strike of any length would seriously threaten economic prospects.

While steel talks were formally in recess here Sunday, chief federal mediator William E. Simkin was known to be working day and night to achieve a settlement.

The timing of the warnings from the Commerce and Treasury Cabinet officers was viewed here as a Johnson move to emphasize the administration's deep concern without actually laying the heavy hand of the White House on the negotiations.

There was no word from union sources whether the Steelworkers would accept the new industry offer, but the union has strongly indicated it does not really hope to get the ful! 17.9 cents it is now demanding.

Steels Improvement Helps Rescue Market

NEW YORK (AP)—An improvement by steels helped rescue the stock market from a decline today and prices were on the upbeat at the close. Trading was fairly active.

Major steels posted moderate gains after an uncertain start.

Eastman Kodak advanced more than 2 in response to higher earnings. Du Pont rose well over a point.

General Motors traded about unchanged. Chrysler and Ford were fractional gainers.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5.3 million shares compared with 5.89 million Friday.

Here was the picture toward the close:

Losses of most key stocks were fractional.

Wider moves occurred among second stocks, including Texas Gulf Sulphur which was pacing the list on volume as it sank more than 3 points amid apprehension over stockholder damage suits arising from alleged insider trading.

Pan American Sulphur wiped out an early rise of nearly 2 and showed a fractional net loss in the afternoon.

Chrysler, now selling exrights to subscribe to its 5.6-million-share stock offering, was credited with a fractional gain, while Ford held firm and General Motors rose a fraction.

Oils reacted from gains last week, with Jersey Standard and Royal Dutch losing around a point.

Losses of a point or close to it were shown also by Zenith, Allied Chemical and IBM.

Gains of a point or so were made by Whirlpool, Shahmoon, Rubbermaid, National Airlines, New Jersey Zinc, ACF Industries, Bush Terminal and Electronic Specialty.

Livingston Oil also was heavily traded and touched a new low as it fell 2 points. Textron, Johnson and Johnson, American-South African Investment and American Enka slid more than a point each.

Prices were generally higher in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds were mostly unchanged in light trading.

SHOVING RIGHT OFF — William and Beatrice Holloway of Sausalito will nose their ship, Will-Bea, northward toward Alaska May 15, a "high school dream" come true. Holloway, studying his compass, rebuilt the ship over six years from a disintegrating relic of a Navy boat. He has raised his family, now plans to cruise most of the time, work part of the time.

SAUSALITAN'S DREAM

Alaska Voyage Set In Rebuilt Vessel

By BRUCE COLEMAN

"By brute strength and sheer awkwardness" William E. Holloway of Sausalito rebuilt a Navy motor sailor, which would barely float, into a tidy seagoing ship.

May 15 at 8 a.m. he will nose the white-painted Will-Bea out of Sausalito Yacht Harbor for Alaska. It is a dream he has had since a high school boy.

With the 51-year-old Holloway will be his wife, Beatrice, and a good friend, David Mitchell. Mitchell, also of Sausalito, has helped rebuild the craft from its "bare bones."

The time to rebuild was six years. The cost: $18,000.

Alaska is but a beginning. Holloway said that, on return in the fall, he and his wife may go to Mexico. If money does not last, he will return to work, save his money, then take off again. "I've got an iron heating," he said.

"My greatest interest on the voyage will be in getting to know the people and their way of life," said Holloway, "I will also sample the fish and do some fishing."

Mrs. Holloway, who is learning to play the accordion for the trip, has some special bonuses over the old landlubber life.

"I have lived on shore all my life," she related, "and always wanted two bathrooms and never got them. I had to get on a boat. Now we have two, one fore and one aft. And I always wanted natural finish cabinet work in the kitchen but did not get it until I got on the boat."

Mitchell, formerly part-owner of a San Francisco travel center, is moving to Alaska. His wife, Elaine, and three children will meet him in Juneau after school is out where the Mitchells will assist a friend to run a lodge.

At Port Angeles, Wash., the Holloways will pick up their eldest daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gotchall of Sunnyvale, and their children who will sail aboard the Will-Bea to Campbell River in British Columbia. They will then return home.

Howard and Dee Dee Shoemaker, formerly of Sausalito, will meet the Holloways at Port Angeles, too, in their boat which they rebuilt at San Rafael. They will sail to Alaska together.

"From Campbell River," said boyish Holloway, "it will take another three weeks to Juneau. We hope to spend two to four weeks in Juneau, then wander back to Port Angeles. If we see a spot and like it, we will stay a few days or a week.

"If we anchor over a bed of oysters and they work, we may stay there for a long time. Then, when we get back to Port Angeles, we will go up the Columbia River and visit another daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hall, and two sons, who live at Wilsonville, Ore."

Holloway works as job superintendent for Martinelli Construction Co. in San Francisco. He is a charter member of the Marin Power Squadron and has studied navigation five years.

He and Mitchell extended the hull two feet in height, then put in the decks and built a wheelhouse. The 50-foot Will-Bea has an 844 Buda diesel engine, carries 800 gallons of fuel and 350 gallons of fresh water. It has automatic pilot, radio and direction finder.

Holloway said that, in rebuilding, the main thing used from the original hull was the shape. The ship was cut up into water tight compartments for safety.

"We have all the comforts of home," said Mrs. Holloway. "Hot water heater, refrigerator, deep freeze, shower." On a table was a bouquet of fresh flowers.

She also said she has a "lot of tomatoes" in sea stores—two cases of tomato sauce and two of tomato soup.

Shake downs have been made to Monterey and the Farallones.

"How does she shake down?" the skipper was asked.

"Fine. No problems. It takes rough water better than we can," he added. Asked about his home port, Holloway said quickly, "Sausalito."

Redistricting Bill Advances Over Protest

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate Reapportionment Committee today approved a sweeping redistricting plan that would shift control of the upper house from rural areas to populous metropolitan counties.

Approval came over the angry objections of Sen. Thomas Rees, D-Los Angeles, who demanded a week's delay.

The action moved the measure to the Senate floor where its author, Sen. Stephen Teale, D-West Point, promised to hold up a vote for a week.

Rees said there should be a week's delay so he could present the committee with individual constituencies for the 12 senators.

But some of his colleagues replied that the Assembly, with its 31 Los Angeles County assemblymen, should do the job.

Rees called that a "bunch of bunk!"

"If I had known this maybe I should run for the Assembly so I could have something to say about Los Angeles County," he said.

"This is the first time I have ever seen in the Senate where we took our prerogatives and shot them over to the Assembly because we don't feel qualified," Rees declared.

"This is the best I've been personally able to come up with," said Chairman Stephen Teale of the Reapportionment Committee.

Admittedly, the West Point Democrat said, the bill does not strictly comply with the U.S. Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" dictum that legislative districts must have substantially equal populations.

"Admittedly," he said, "it fractures our own constitution in at least three respects."

But he contended the new districts created by the plan each represent a "community of interest" and only one of them looks "odd. That's the one including Napa, Solano and Marin counties.

It looks like a wet brassiere on a clothes line in a high wind," said Teale.

Sen. Luther A. Gibson, D-Vallejo, indicated he would present amendments to the measure at a later date.

Kremlin Dictates Russ Education

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

Russian schools in general are on a par with some of the worst in the United States, Larkspur School District Supt. Milton S. Cohen said today, but the best students are given special treatment which excells anything given here.

Cohen today reviewed the 21 days he and county schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis spent in the Soviet Union as part of a tour of 30 United States school administrators to Eastern Europe. He said that teaching methods seen in Russia are mechanical and serve to cut off creativity by students.

All educational programs are controlled and dictated from the Kremlin, he added, giving uniformity throughout the country.

"And they make no bones about it. Education is there to serve the state," he said. All plans are made on what the state needs.

Students are given tests at the end of the fourth and sixth grades and these tests determine what kind of future education each child will receive.

The talented students are then sent to special schools to become teachers, scientists, doctors or artists, Cohen reported. In these schools there will be one teacher for every eight to 10 students, but the teaching method is the old-fashioned recitation type.

Teaching methods emphasizing problem solving such as those in the United States, appeared unknown in Russia, he said. Students—and in fact all Russians—seem dedicated to excell the work of the United States, and there are no classroom discipline problems.

"The schools are turning out top scientists, military men and even athletes," Cohen said. "Meanwhile, the people stand in line for a loaf of bread, have toilets that don't flush and crowd 15 persons into an apartment."

He said religion as known in the west is downgraded and apparently reserved only for the elderly.

"Lenin is God in Russia, and communism is the religion," he said. There were no pictures of Joseph Stalin or Nikita S. Khrushchev, but many of Nikolai Lenin.

The school buildings in Russia are old, Cohen said, and teaching equipment appeared obsolete. Libraries were small and there were few supplementary textbooks besides the single text for each course used in class.

However, he went on, the top youngsters are allowed to join the Communist youth organizations, and these students are then given a double dose of education, with special teachers, later in the day.

He said many schools were on double sessions, with some on triple shifts, but classes averaged about 25 students. In rural areas, he added, schools were in forse condition. Many children there were offered only four years of education.

In Russia Cohen's group, sponsored by the American Assn. of School Administrators and the National Education Assn., visited Moscow, Kiev, Leningrad and Tbilisi in the southern area known as Georgia.

Also, the tour included quick stops in Finland, Germany, Denmark, Austria, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

"The United States may have some schools that compare to the Russians," Cohen said, mentioning some he had seen in the southern part of this country.

"But they were showing up their best," he went on. "And if these were their best, they have a long way to go to catch up."

He said that children in many cases are put in nurseries, operated by the state, at the age of three months. Kindergarten starts at age 4. The hope, he said, is to gain control of the child's mind at the cradle, so as to make him useful to the state.

Secret Agents Probe Stolen Car, Checks

U. S. Secret Service agents from San Francisco have been called into the case of an abandoned stolen car found late yesterday with government checks scattered nearby.

Sheriff's deputy Russell Hunt said the vehicle, stolen last Feb. 23 in Fairfax from John P. Richland of 2575 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Fairfax, was found stripped about 7:10 p.m. by George E. Flanders Jr. of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Woodacre.

The 1959 Cadillac, officers said, had been driven off the road—known as the old San Geronimo Valley Drive — and was almost secluded in trees on Flanders' property.

Deputy Hunt said the checks, apparently all government checks, totaled about 16 and were scattered some 150 feet from the vehicle. Other items from the car also were strewn about, he said.

The Secret Service was attempting to identify the checks, officers said. Deputy Hunt added however, that Richland apparently is in the government land purchase business, and the checks may only be refunds to persons involved in purchases.

Wolf, Eagle Return

ROME (AP)—Rome's big blizzard this winter brought the two symbols of ancient Rome—the wolf and the eagle—back to the city. Watchmen in the outskirts of the city reported seeing wolves driven in from the hills by hunger. In another section of Rome a man shot down an eagle with a seven-foot wingspread driven in by lack of food.

Slavic Storm Wind Losing Its Power

BELGRADE (AP) — The Bora, dread storm wind of the upper Adriatic, is slowly losing its force, weather experts say.

In the past four years the average force of the Bora has dropped steadily, and the number of windy days per year has been the lowest in a quarter century.

Woman, Girl Lost On Tam Are Safe

A San Francisco woman and her 11-year-old daughter were reported fit and well in Samuel P. Taylor State Park at 1:25 p.m. yesterday after spending a cold and lonely night in the hilly region beyond Alpine Lake.

Mrs. Joan Jordan and her daughter, Valerie, got lost Saturday evening, then wandered 12 miles in the wrong direction. They wore only tights and blouses but were said to be unhurt by their all-night trek.

Four sheriff's deputies and four volunteers, led by Sheriff's Capt. Sydney Stinson, searched the Kent-Alpine Lakes area until 2 a.m. yesterday after Jean Spitz of San Francisco, a fellow student of Mrs. Jordan at City College of San Francisco, alerted Fairfax police at 8 p.m. Saturday.

The trio had gone hiking Saturday afternoon. When they stopped for a rest Spitz climbed the Pine Mountain ridge by himself. When he returned, Mrs. Jordan and her daughter were gone.

Sheriff's officers resumed the hunt at daybreak yesterday and were still looking when the pair walked into Samuel P. Taylor Park and told a ranger they had been lost.

During the night, they said, they had slept a few hours, and at one time heard the search party calling but were unable to locate it.

Trio Arrested In Crocker Art Collection Burglary

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Three young men were held today as suspects in the biggest art theft in the history of the West—about $1 million worth of the collection of the late banking tycoon W. C. Crocker.

Five paintings, including two Van Goghs and a Renoir, were recovered Saturday in a Texas warehouse. Other loot, including a copy of a Gauguin painting of two clowns, a copy of a Picasso woodcut of a violin, and 91 other items ranging from Persian rugs to rare coins—were recovered in the home of one of the suspects.

The three men were identifid as Martin J. Winthal, 25, his brother Joseph, 21; and Solomon Marquez Jr., 27, all of San Francisco. They were arrested early Saturday after a month-long investigation by police and FBI agents.

Russ-U.S. Soldier Reunion Balked By East Germans

BERLIN (AP) — A single bouquet of flowers at the base of a massive World War II memorial had to substitute for a planned 20th anniversary reunion of American and Soviet soldiers who met at the Elbe River on April 25, 1945.

Joseph Polowsky of Chicago, one of the veterans of the historic linkup in the final days of the Nazi regime, had planned to lead about 10 American veterans to the East German town of Torgau, near where the meeting took place.

This year, the East Germans refused visas to the Americans.

Polowsky went to the Soviet war memorial near the Berlin wall and the Brandenburg Gate Sunday and gave the bouquet to British guards, who delivered it to the Soviet compound. A Sovie officer placed it at the memorial.

A new hearing aid, so small it weighs only 6.2 grams, has been invented and is now on the market. It is soo small it can be put through the eye of a needle.

High School Bus Policy Change To Be Asked Board

San Rafael Board of Education will be asked to change its bus policy for high school students at a meeting set for 7:30 p.m. tomorrow night.

Members will be presented with a petition from Mrs. Margaret Klebanoff of 4 Merim Drive, Santa Venetia, urging a reduction in mileage limits for students at Terra Linda High School and the addition of another school bus.

Currently transportation is available only for students who live outside a three mile direct route limit. Mrs. Klebanoff claims the bus service will need to be expanded because about 125 children will be graduated to Terra Linda from the Santa Venetia area soon.

Under review again will be the elementary budget. Members have already studied proposals submitted by Supt. Bert C. Corona, and must decide whether to impose an override tax to cover teachers' salaries.

Appointments and resignations of certificated and classified staff are also due for approval.

Dentists Rap Medicare As 'Unnecessary'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The American Dental Assn. opposes Medicare federal medical aid as being "an unnecessary and irreversible health care program," its president-elect said yesterday.

Dr. Maynard K. Kine told the California Dental Association that the national body does not seek total exclusion of the federal government from the health field.

"But the amount of governmental funds which can be devoted to health is limited," Dr. Kine said.

"And when we begin speaking of billions of dollars for a federal health care program, we must also speak of the fact that these dollars will be taken from other essential and legitimate programs of support for education and research."

He said the national association opposes "any measure which would provide health care to a segment of the population without regard to need."

Frances H. Romick, San Francisco, was installed yesterday as president of the California Dental Assn. and Elbert H. Smith, Fresno, as president-elect.

'Ole Miss' Court Figure Dies

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Sidney Mize, who handled the James Meredith-University of Mississippi suits and handed down Mississippi's first public school desegregation order, died in a hospital here today. He was 77.

Mize was admitted to the hospital late Sunday for observation and treatment, attendants said.

He collapsed in a courtroom in Meridian last month and was rushed to a hospital where he was administered oxygen.

A spokesman later said the collapse resulted from a recurring back injury.

In 1924 California motorists consumed nearly 750 million gallons of gas, compared with the 1964 consumption of 6.6 billion gallons.

Terra Linda Plan On Tap

The controversial proposed planned community development on Quail Hill in Terra Linda will come before the San Rafael Planning Commission during special meetings at 7:30 p.m. May 4 and 18 in the city council chamber.

Applications for a use permit for the 951-dwelling unit project and rezoning of the proposed site from an unclassified to a planned community district will be considered.

The developer, Draper Development Inc., submitted similar applications last month but withdrew them before the commission's March 23 meeting.

Serious Injury To Russell As Celts Romp To Title

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON (AP) — Bill Russell, giant rallying figure of the ceaseless Celtics, called it "the most satisfying year of all."

A few hours later, he was confined to bed, suffering from undetermined injuries to his right eye.

Russell, who led Boston to an overpowering 129-96 triumph over Los Angeles yesterday for the Celtics' seventh straight National Basketball Association title, was ordered to bed last night for treatment of injuries received when the Lakers' Jerry West accidentally poked him in the eye.

Dr. Baruch Sachs, an eye specialist, said the big center's condition was "a lot more serious than first thought and has got to be treated very carefully." Dr. Sachs said internal hemorrhaging had resulted. He ordered Russell to bed for four or five days.

Neither Dr. Sachs nor the Celtics would say if there was danger of Russell's eyesight being impaired.

In the jubilant Celtics' dressing room after the game, Russell said the team had dedicated the season to Walter Brown, late club owner and founder.

"The season was something special because we broke the record with 62 victories. Then we proved we were worthy of it in the playoffs," Russell said.

"Naturally the first championship is still the biggest one for me," Coach Red Auerbach said. "But when we broke the record for victories this year I really wanted to win to prove we were the greatest team.

"Everyone on this team digs on defense. Look at Willie Naulls. He couldn't spell the word defense when he joined us.

For the second straight game and the 11th of their last 22 playoff starts, the Celtics held a rival under 100 points. They held Dick Barnett scoreless after he had averaged 17.5 in the first four games. Tiring West scored 33 but only 12 before intermission. He averaged 40.6 for 11 playoff games.

Boston ran off 20 straight points at the start of the final period for an insurmountable 107-71 bulge. The 20 Celtics' field goals in that quarter was a playoff championship record.

Russell scored 22 points, grabbed 30 rebounds and had four assists before leaving to a thunderous ovation six minutes before the end. Sam Jones also had 22, K.C. Jones tied his personal game high with 20, Johnny Havlicek added 18 and Tom Sanders 16.

"I'll say it again, this is the greatest team I ever saw," said Los Angeles Coach Fred Schaus, whose team was eliminated in five games without All-Star forward Elgin Baylor, hobbled by a knee ailment.

"That Boston four-man defensive press and then to find Russell waiting for you under the basket — that's a helluva sight," added Schaus.

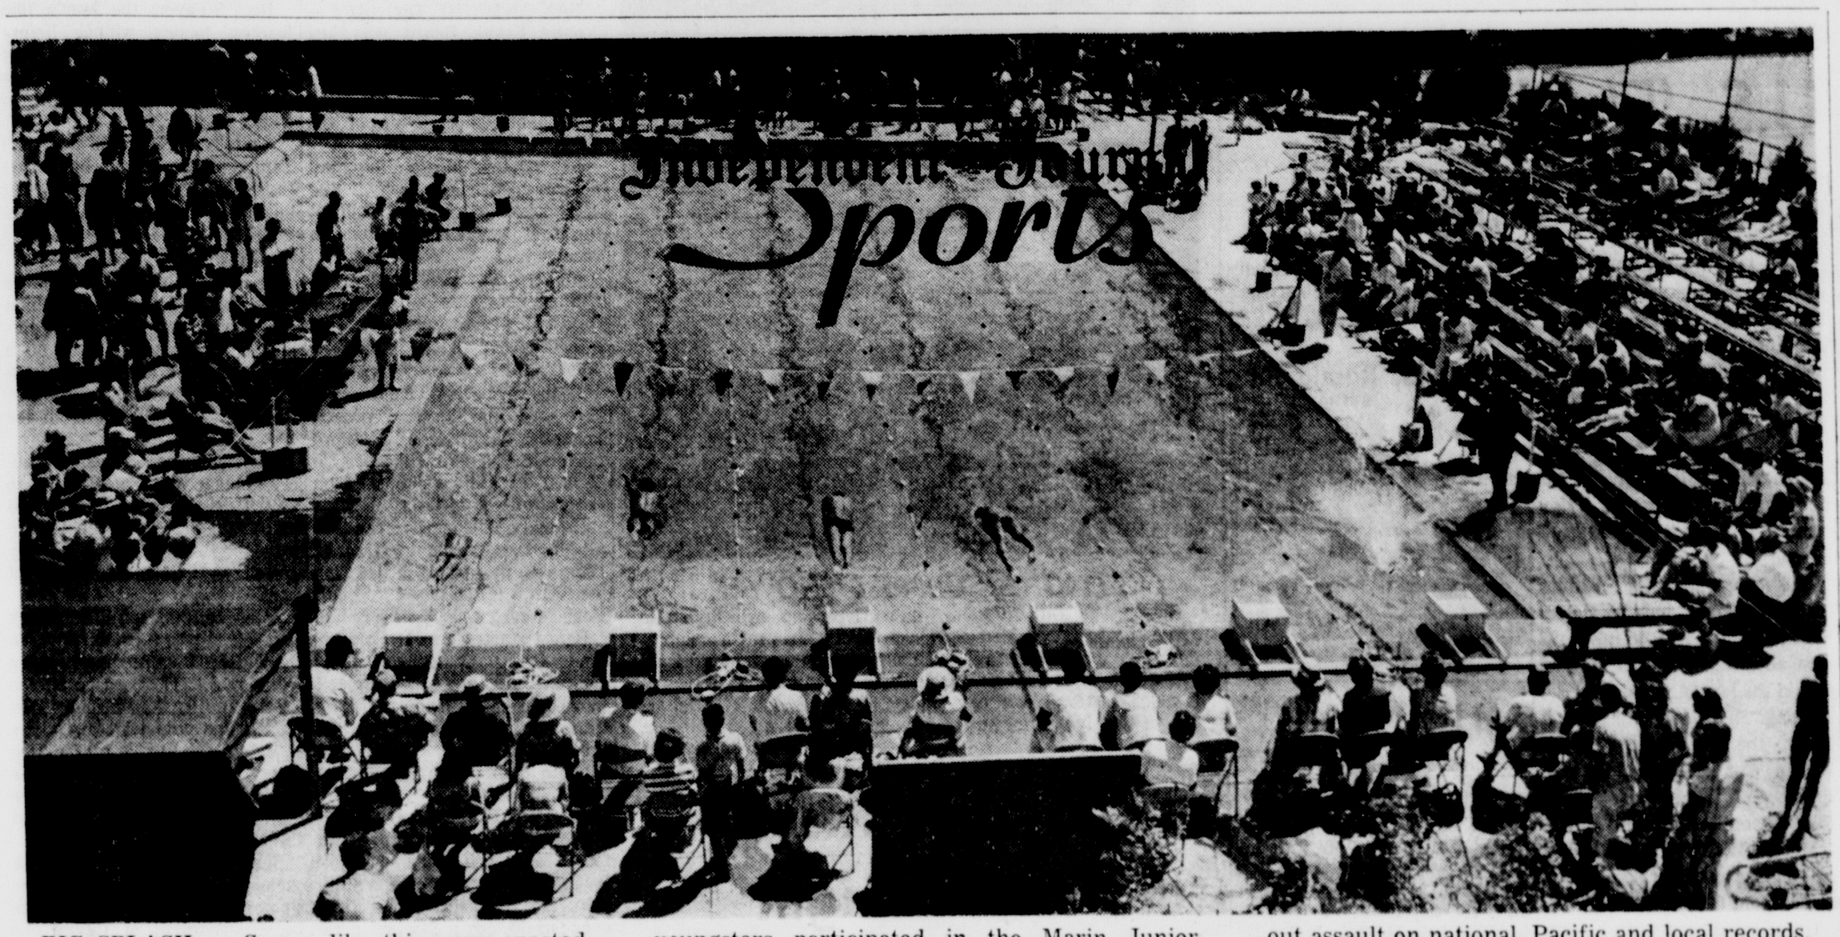

"Who hurt us the most in the series? The same guy who has been hurting everybody for the last nine years — Russell."

Russell was out with an ankle injury when St. Louis beat Boston for the crown in 1958. In over-all playoff games since Russell and the first title arrived together in 1956-57, the record shows 69 victories and 33 losses with Russell in the lineup, 0-2 with him out.

Tommy Heinsohn, only other surviving veteran of all the title years, would not comment on his expected retirement, adding "I'm not going to announce anything for a few days."

"K.C. Jones broke it wide open," Auerbach said. "Russell was magnificent, Heinsohn played great defense, Havlicek came in and sparked us, Sam Jones didn't feel good but he got going, then Naulls came in and carried on the momentum."

Mets Sizzle, Giants Fizzle—Franks Simmers

BIG SPLASH — Scenes like this were enacted many times over the weekend as hundreds of youngsters participated in the Marin Junior Swimming Championships at Greenbrae in an all-out assault on national, Pacific and local records. Story below, summaries on page 15.
(Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

S.F. Boss Near Boiling Point

San Francisco Giants' manager Herman Franks' use is getting shorter all the time.

The usually affable skipper, who shrugged off earlier defeats this season with his special brand of good humor, was fairly bristling yesterday after the raggamuffin New York Mets handed his Giants a 4-3 loss in the nightcap of a doubleheader.

The Mets, a collection of old timers and untried youngsters, played the Giants off their feet during the weekend and left town with three victories in four tries against the San Francisco sluggers.

Juan Marichal was near unbeatable as he shut out the Mets in the opener yesterday for a 5-0 victory. But the Mets, who shaded the Giants 9-8 in 11 innings Friday night and beat them, 7-6, on a three-run triple by Danny Napoleon in the ninth inning Saturday, rubbed in the salt with their second game win yesterday.

Ageless Warren Spahn, staked to a 4-0 lead on key hits by Ron Swoboda, Bobby Klaus and Ed Kranspool, faltered in the eighth and ninth innings but hung on to gain his second victory of the season and the 358th of his long and colorful career. The win overshadowed Marichal's fine effort and left Franks in an ugly mood.

Asked for an appraisal of his team after the first 12 games, Franks bit down a bit on his cigar and snapped "great." The Giants have won only five games while losing seven and are mired in eighth place. The Mets, on the other hand, have a 6-7 record and are in sixth place.

After reflecting a moment on his short crisp answer, Franks said there was nothing wrong with the Giants that some improved hitting qouldn't cure.

"A couple of base hits at the right time could have made a big difference in some of the games we lost," he growled as he stared at the ceiling.

The Giants did all the hitting in yesterday's opener, staking Marichal to a 4-0 lead in two innings on a two-run homer by Willie McCovey and a two-run triple by Hal Lanier. They picked up their fifth run in the third on doubles by Jesus Alou and Jose Pagan.

Then, a trio of Mets pitchers, 18-year-old Jim Bethke, 20-year-old Frank McGraw and the veteran Carlton Willey, shut them out the rest of the way. They got all their runs off little Al Jackson, who took his third straight loss.

In the nightcap, Spahn, who celebrated his 44th birthday earlier in the week, muffled the Giants bats until the eighth inning when two singles and a double netted San Francisco two runs. The Giants got their final run in the ninth on a bases-empty homer by Willie Mays, his fourth of the season.

Nat'l Marks Shattered In Marin Swim

Pokey Watson, a member of the U.S. Olympic team last year at only 14, was the star of the show at the Marin Swimming Championships Saturday and yesterday in the Bon Air Recreation Center pool in Greenbrae.

Miss Watson won five events, establishing national records in four of them and a pool record in the other.

Swimming in the 13-14 age group, Pokey broke two national marks Saturday and returned yesterday to snap two more. She won the 50-meter freestyle in 28.8, breaking the old record of 29.4, and then took the top honors in the 200-meter backstroke in 2:35.4, cracking the old record of 2:38.4.

Returning to the Greenbrae pool yesterday for more individual honors, the classy lassy from the Santa Clara Swim Club won the 200-meter freestyle in 2:15.1, erasing the old national mark of 2:20.6, and then swept to a triumph in the 200-meter individual medley with a 2:35.8 clocking, snapping the former national mark of 2:36.6.

Just to add more glitter on her weekend of record breaking swimming, she won the 200-meter butterfly with a time of 2:45.2, good for a pool record. The national record there was a real fast 2:24.0 set by Karen Kvarnstrom.

The two-day meet was under the sanction of the Pacific Assn. of the Amateur Athletic Assn. and co-sponsored by the Independent-Journal, Marin Pirates Swim Club and Schulz Enterprises. There was a total of 61 events for boys and girls 6 through 17. Nearly 600 youngsters from throughout northern California, Reno, and more distant parts of the nation competed.

Ray Rivero, unattached swimmer in the boys 13-14 age group, also won five times, setting two national records, one Pacific Assn. AAU mark, and two pool records.

His new national marks were in the 200-meter backstroke, 2:24.0, snapping the old mark of 2:29.6, and in the 200-meter butterfly, 2:25.7, beating the old record of 2:27.0.

He established the new Pacific Assn. AAU mark in the 200-meter freestyle (2:08.0), and splashed to pool records in the 100-meter breast (1:16.8) and the 200-meter individual medley (2:24.6).

The Aquabears of Orinda won the team first place trophy, amassing a total of 161-5/6 points. The team from San Francisco Recreation and Park Dept. was second, 115 points, and the Marin Pirates were third place trophy winners with a total of 97-5/6 points. Next were Arden Hills of Sacramento (80), Peninsula Tigers of Redwood City (78) and the San Rafael Swim Club (68½).

The 'Beloved' Celtic Coach

The Boston Celtics—the basketball team, not the Clancys and O'Callahans from the south part of town—lead the league in knee braces, Joneses, technical fouls, temper tantrums and general cussedness. They also, of course, lead in rebounds, games-won, foul shots and slugging newspapermen. There is nothing they can't do.

Their leader is a guy with the same sunny outlook on life as a bleeding shark. Arnold Auerbach, known to fellow coaches and referees as "A. Achingback," treats mankind as if it had come to pick his pocket. He also spits on the floor during moments of great stress—like when the official calls a 3-point foul against his team for doing nothing more nocuous than poking a finger in a shooter's eye and tugging at his belt buckle.

RED AUERBACH is a certified genius of the game largely on the strength of the fact that when the owners said they could get center Bill Russell from the St. Louis Hawks for an over-the-hill center and a 20-point forward, Auerbach said "Yes." Or, maybe, he just nodded his head. Either way, he became the Knute Rockne of basketball. It wasn't easy. He could have said "No."

He has had the magic of Bob Cousy, the archery accuracy of Bill Sharman, the deft tragedian tricks of Frank Ramsey, and now the overpowering anti-missile missilery of Russell. He is to basketball gunners what ceiling zero is to pilot or offshore rocks to sailors. They should put a lighthouse or airline beacon on his slopes.

YOU WOULD think the possession of Russell would turn most basketball coaches into purring kittens who go around patting little kids on the head, putting splints on wounded butterflies, and spending the off-season caring for the sick in the Congo. But Red Auerbach remains the Erich von Stroheim of the cage. One of Bill Russell's chief duties is preventing him from assaulting referees, reviling fans, or kicking cats. Some nights they should give him a carpet to chew on.

A laughing winner is not uncommon in sports. Neither is a snarling loser. Red is a snarling winner.

It might be his diet. Cokes for breakfast are like pickles at bedtime—not warranted to pacify elements in the body.

RED IS also a devotee of various forms of exotic cookery which is all right as long as you

The top 15 bowlers, plus last year's Masters champ Mike Weddell, will play head-to-head double elimination matches next Saturday beginning at 6:30 p.m. at Country Club Bowl. The field will be pared down to the top 8 who will roll for the championship the following afternoon.

There was a total of 80 Marin County keglers competing in the elemination series. The qualifiers:

Novato Tennis Tourney, Clinic

The Novato Tennis Group is making plans for a men's tournament and a children's net clinic.

Deadline for entries in the men's tournament is Wednesday. The tourney is scheduled for next weekend. In charge of the sign-ups is Dick Secrist of 5 Sunnyhill Road, Novato.

The children's clinic will be held on Saturdays, starting at noon, through May. Mrs. Manuel Soares will head the clinic, and Mrs. Hal Blue of 1294 Leafwood Drive, Novato, is in charge of signups. The clinic is open to boys and girls through the age of 17.

Five Marinites Win In Weightlifting

Five weightlifters from Mar-Vel Athletic Club of San Rafael took home trophies from the Santa Clara Valley Open Weightlifting Championships held in San Jose over the weekend.

Ed Gersom and Ed Manniscalco won second and third place trophies respectively in the 123-pound class, Terry Johnson won third in the 148-pound class, Frank Holton was second in the 181-pound class, and Chet Kistler was second in the heavyweight division.

Run For The Roses Saturday—All Eyes On Bold Lad

By ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Preparations for the 91st running of the Kentucky Derby moved into the nerve wracking final stages today with most of the experts awaiting Bold Lad's showing in the Derby Trial before selecting the probable winner of America's most colorful horse race.

The Trial will be run over one mile tomorrow at Churchill Downs, five days before 12 or more 3-year-olds take off in the 1¼-mile $125,000-added Run for the Roses before a packed crowd of some 100,000. Post time Saturday is 12:45 p.m. PDT with nation-wide television CBS scheduled for 12-1 p.m.

Bold Lad, the strapping 2-year-old champion of 1964 from Mrs. H. C. Phipps' Wheatley Stable, finished third back of front-running Flag Raiser and fast-closing Hail to All in the recent Wood Memorial at New York's Aqueduct.

The son of Bold Ruler, whose 1965 campaign has been limited to two starts because of popped splints in his front legs, will be piloted for the first time by Bill Hartack. He has ridden in six Derbies and won four, the last with Northern Dancer in 1964.

While most trainers and other horseman chose to wait Bold Lad's showing against Darby Dan Farm's Bugler before coming up with any opinion, not so with Jimmy Conway, trainer of Bugler.

"My horse is just a good useful horse," said Conway. "My opinion of Saturday's field is that it is a good average group of 3-year-olds without a definite standout and that goes for Bold Lad, Hail to All, Flag Raiser and Native Charger.

"But if you would ask me as to my choice it would be Tom Rolfe. I liked the way he ran in winning last Saturday's Stepping Stone. Look at that last one-eighth mile — 22 4-5 seconds on top of a 1:10 for six furlongs. And he worked out 1⅛ miles in 1:49.

"He's a little horse but I like his conformation. He should be a mighty tough horse to beat."

Tom Rolfe, who'll be ridden by Canada's Ron Turcotte, will carry the colors of Raymond Guest, U.S. ambassador to Ireland and a high ranking polo player.

He won Laurel's Chesapeake Stakes before taking the seven furlongs of the Stepping Stone with Native Charger, Flamingo and Florida Derby winner, 1¾ lengths back in second.

The closing charges of Hail to All in running second in the Florida Derby and the Wood have caused much comment among the early arrivals at the Downs.

Entries for the Derby are scheduled to be made Thursday morning with the payment of $500. It'll cost another $1,000 to get a horse into the post parade.

As of today the starters include Dapper Dan, Dapper Delegate, Swift Ruler, Narushua, Mr. Pak, Carpenter's Rule, Lucky Debonair and Apple Core in addition to Bold Lad, Flag Raiser, Tom Rolfe, Native Charger and Hail to All.

With 12 starters the Derby will be worth $156,000 with $113,500 going to the winner.

DIMAG BACK IS ACTION

Hall of Famer Joe DiMaggio, the former Yankee Clipper, showed he could still swing a mean bat (in spite of unlikely attire) during opening day ceremonies yesterday for Little League baseball at Peacock Gap. DiMag and another ex-major league great, Lefty O'Doul, helped the Little Leaguers of Peacock Gap and San Quentin open their season.

U.S. '5' Blitzes Russian Cagers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two offensive blitzes in the second half carried the United States All Stars to a lopsided 85-68 victory last night over Russia's touring national basketball team.

The win was the Yanks' third in the four games played. The two teams will meet again tomorrow night in Indianapolis, Ind.

The score was tied eight times in the first half, but the United States built up a 43-38 intermission advantage. It was no contest in the last 20 minutes.

Using a devastating fast break, the All Stars outscored Russia 12-2 in the first five minutes of the second half to take a commanding 55-40 lead.

Minutes later they cinched it by running off 16 straight points and forging ahead 75-48.

Great backboard work by San Francisco's Ollie Johnson and Wichita's Dave Stallworth set up fast break scores for UCLA's Gail Goodrich and Calvin Fowler of St. Francis of Pennsylvania.

The Russians, many of whom played on their country's Olympic finalist team, displayed fine ball handling and great speed but they couldn't match the United States in shooting and rebounding.

Gennadiy Volnov paced the Russian attack with a deadly jump shot and led all scorers with 23. Goodrich had 19 and Fowler 18.

count the cats in the neighborhood before (and after) you dine. Also, it just may be that, in the tension of a close game, all that cold tea catches up with him. The day Russell leaves his team, league officials better be ready to put in for combat pay or get Red a copy of Duncan Hines. If he can get THAT mad on an annual world championship what will 4th place do to him?

Red even took to the public prints the other week with his own version of gamesmanship, which is not to be confused with sportsmanship. He recommended, among other things, that his players return the ball at a roll to officials on a turnover so that their team can have more time to get on defense, that they connive to get their seats closest to the scorer's bench and the time clock, that they pre-empt the basket the other team had been warming up on, that they sow dissention on a team with a high scorer (ah, there, Wilt Chamberlain). He also noted that "grabbing or pulling the pants or shirt of the opponent can be very aggravating." Also, very illegal.

A MAN of parts, our Mr. Auerbach. He lost just one game to the Lakers in the NBA playoffs that ended yesterday with another Celtic championship. After that loss he kept the press cooling its heels for a deadline or so. When they came in, he greeted them jovially with "Wait a minute! You guys can't all be newspapermen! Let's clear this dressing room! Every time we come out here, someone steals a jacket. We've lost four of them. It's a crime wave, not an interview."

The tone of the conference thus having been set, it wasn't long before a Celtic official was pushing a man who claimed to be a journalist but couldn't prove it (neither could I) toward the door. The argument got loud. Suddenly, fists were swinging. The Celt, an aging party in a snack coat, swung lustily. Blood trickled off the young man who was hustled out the door by two burly players. The whole scene was as uncalled-for as the World War.

A newsman pointed to the Celt official belaboring the other newsmen with head punches. "Who," he asked the player "is that?" "Him?" answered the player jauntily. "Oh, he's our public relations man."

Rog Rischer Risks Cal Title Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — State heavyweight champion Roger Rischer ranks a 2-1 favorite over Thad Spencer of Pasadena in a battle between a mustachioed veteran and a brash challenger tonight at Civic Auditorium, 8:30.

It marks the seventh time that the 31-year-old Rischer puts his California title on the line and his first fight since he startled the boxing world by upsetting British Empire Champion Henry Cooper in London.

Spencer, 22, has a 24-3 record, including a recent knockout of former top-rated Billy Daniels. He is a harder puncher than the champion.

Rischer has been in steady training, despite his ring layoff, and was set to go against Willie Richardson when the fight was canceled just before the first round.

"I've had long waits between fights before," Rischer said. "Rests do me good. I'm sharper when I return to action."

Spencer says he intends to make it the fight of his life.

Beard Wins Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Young Frank Beard was just getting back in the swing of his golf game about this time last year after a serious attack of encephalitis knocked him off the PGA tour for six weeks.

"I started hitting the ball pretty good right away," the soft-spoken 25-year-old said of the first few rounds after his recovery.

An yesterday Beard strode the champion's route for the second time in his pro career by taking a three-stroke victory in the $50,000 Texas Open. He won $7,500.

Beard, raised in Dallas, but now of Louisville, Ky., proved himself a calm, steady pressure player by mastering the par 35-35-70 Oak Hills Country Club course with a 35-33-68.

He had challengers to the title all the way, including Gardner Dickinson Jr., who finished second with a 273 to pick up $4,000. Beard's card was 70-67-65-68-270.

Beard started two strokes behind Jacky Cupit, the third round leader, and found himself in trouble early in the round by three putting for a bogey on the third hole.

From then on he was on his way to victory.

Cupit lost his lead fast by taking back-to-back bogies on the fourth and fifth holes, and following with another on the ninth hole. He finished with a five-over-par 75, for a 275 and a tie for fourth.

Bert Weaver, the tour's 10th leading money winner before the tournament, made the most determined bid, but double bogied the last two holes to finish with a 73 and 276.

Actually, Beard was tied with Tommy Aaron, who has often finished high in the money, but has never won a PGA tournament, at the 63-hole turn. Both were eight under par.

Beard iced the title with an eagle on the par 5 no. 10, which was prey for an eagle often during the tournament. He got off a powerful drive and used a four-iron out of the rough, dropping the ball about 20 feet from the cup.

Aaron, the second-round leader, managed to squeak a 70 to go with earlier rounds of 66, 66 and 72 for a 274 that left him in a tie for third with Bob Verwey and Steve Oppermann. Each got $2,933.

After the encephilitis attack that left him in a coma for three days, Beard came back strong to enjoy a $22,929 season on the PGA tour. He has already won $26,404 this year with this victory, a tie for fourth at the Bob Hope Desert Classic; fifth at the Phoenix Open; seventh at the San Diego Open, and eighth at the Masters.

Beard, whose only other PGA victory was the Frank Sinatra Open in 1963, is not qualified for the Tournament of Champions in Las Vegas, Nev., this week.

MILLER WINS PRO DEBUT— A ONE HITTER

Steve Miller, the San Anselmo righthander who signed a bonus contract with the Houston Astros this year, started off his professional career with a bang.

Joe Anselmo of San Rafael, the scout who helped Miller to the contract, reported the former Drake High School pitcher hurled a one-hitter in his pro debut for Cocoa Beach of the Florida State League.

According to Joe's report, the Houston farm team lost its first four games of the season before giving Miller a shot last Thursday. Miller struck out seven batters on the way to the shutout win over Orlando Beach. He gave up only one base on balls.

Powerful Builders Rout S.F. Clippers

The powerful Billings-Hutchinson Builders blasted the San Francisco Clippers 14-1 yesterday in San Francisco. It was the Builders' 14th triumph in their last 15 games.

Leading the B-H 15-hit onslaught was outfielder Doug Wilson with a pair of triples and a single. Dave Hughes had a single and double with two runs batted in, and Jess Munyon had a triple in the Builders' sixth inning when they scored 7 of their runs. Dick Spackman and Jess Jacinto each had a pair of singles to help the winning cause.

Larry Calof got the win, pitching the first five innings in great fashion. He allowed only one hit and struck out 12 batters. Skip Rush worked the final four frames, allowing the one run on one hit and striking out 7. Bob DeRosa joined the San Rafael team and stroked a two-run single. Baker Chorale Will Present 'Zorababel' Premiere Saturday

The Winifred Baker Chorale will present its third major premiere in slightly more than a year when it presents the world premiere of San Francisco composer Kirke Mecham's "The Victory of Zorababel" on Saturday at 8 p.m. in Angelico Hall of Dominican College, San Rafael.

Mechem's First Symphony was premiered last January by the San Francisco Symphony and was described by conductor Josef Krips as the best work he had seen by a modern composer in several years.

The Winifred Baker Orchestra and soloists Margery Tede, Edward Jameson, Byron Jones and Douglas Stobie will be featured with the chorale.

Jones and Jameson sang the two male roles in the December premiere of Britten's "War Requiem" in Larkspur.

In addition to the Mechem premiere, works by two of the most famous contemporary names in music, Glenn Gould and Leonard Bernstein will be given. The Bernstein work, "The Lark," will be combined with dramatic readings from Shaw's "St. Joan" by the Festival Theater Players Barbara Denaree, Robert Cowell and Robert Atkinson.

Motorist Chases Teen-Ager Cyclist, Lands In Jail

A 28-year-old San Rafael man with a grudge against motorcycles was booked for assault with a deadly weapon early Saturday after chasing a teen-age cyclist through San Rafael and on Highway 101 at speeds over 80 miles per hour.

Free on $5,000 bail from county jail was Joseph Lee Elliston of 1319 Clinton Court.

San Rafael police said he nearly hit the motorcycle, driven by Bruce Stark Bordi, 16, of 50 Sonoma Street, Apt. 9, San Rafael, several times during the pursuit. Elliston also was charged with resisting arrest.

The chase began at the San Rafael-San Anselmo city line on the Miracle Mile shortly after midnight and continued down Second Street to Irwin Street and onto Highway 101.

Officer John F. Riordan saw the car and cycle on the highway, and gave pursuit.

Bordi turned onto the Highway 17 off-ramp, then to Francisco Boulevard. Elliston heeded the siren on Francisco Boulevard and pulled over to the curb but Bordi kept on going. He was stopped at Bellam Boulevard—visibly shaken and in a state of shock.

Elliston told Riordan he didn't like motorcyclists or motorcycles.

"You know what they do in Oakland? They tromp on people's cars and smash up things," Elliston said.

He did not know Bordi nor did the young motorcyclist know him.

Riordan said he told Elliston he could have killed Bordi.

"If you hadn't stopped me and we'd gotten out on the highway, that's exactly what I would have done," Riordan quoted Elliston as saying.

Elliston attempted to kick the radio in the patrol unit after he was arrested and was placed in a padded cell after being booked, Riordan reported.

He is to appear in Municipal Court tomorrow.

Two thefts were reported from Peacock Gap Country Club. Rolf Singelmann of 121½ Grove Avenue, Corte Madera, complained that a tennis racket and sweater worth a total of $52 disappeared from his unlocked car Thursday in the club parking lot.

Albert Ryder of the USS Robert E. Lee, berthed in Vallejo, reported his wallet missing from one of the club's locker rooms. It contained $30 to $50.

Two $20 yard lamps were stolen for an apartment building at 137 Canal Street, San Rafael, manager Maiza Doden complained Saturday.

Critics Contend High School Teaches More But Not Better

By ERWIN KNOLL
Advance News Service

SKYTOP, Pa. — American high school students are being taught more than ever before, but they are not being taught better.

That is the reaction of many college professors to the new generation of students who have been exposed to the sweeping high school curriculum changes instituted in recent years.

New courses in mathematics and the sciences, developed under multi-million-dollar grants from foundations and the federal government, are now available to a majority of the high school students in the United States. Similar curricular revisions are under way in English and the social studies.

PROFESSORS SAY the new courses are turning out high school graduates who have been "crammed" with impressive amounts of information. But many feel there has been no comparable increase in students' maturity, responsibility or awareness of the world around them. Some believe that bad teaching is undermining the benefits of the new curricula.

"The challenge of Curricular Change" was discussed here by some 150 college and secondary school educators at a three-day conference sponsored by the College Entrance Examination Board and the National Assn. of Secondary School Principals.

In broad-ranging discussions, reactions to the recent curriculum innovations ranged from unqualified enthusiasm to doubts that any meaningful changes have been introduced. But a majority expressed the view that changes have been constructive but excessively confined to mechanics rather than substantive issues of education.

DOUGLAS H. HEATH, chairman of the psychology department at Haverford College, said he thought the new high school courses are producing "increasing intellectual over-development or specialization in selected academic areas—particularly the sciences—at the expense of maturing in other areas."

Some of the new instruction in high school is at a level which students are too immature to handle, Heath said. He blamed the high schools, too, for failing to give students proper motivation for learning.

Youngsters go through years of "joyless grinding" for the sole purpose of getting into a good college, Heath said, only to find that at least four more years of "grinding" lie ahead. The result often is failure in college, he asserted.

Dean Stephen K. Bailey of the Maxwell Graduate School of Citizenship and Public Affairs at Syracuse University complained about education's "preoccupation with method as against substance." The schools have sheltered students from the problems confronting society.

"All too often," Bailey added, "we in education have avoided conflict and controversy in the classroom."

HENRY SCATTERGOOD, headmaster of the Germantown Friends School in Philadelphia, pointed out that no one can oppose the principle of excellence in education.

"But what are some of the human costs," he asked, "in terms of increased pressures, of temptation to plagiarize and cheat, and of over-emphasis on competition in learning?

"Despite the undoubted stimulation resulting from new approaches to subject matter—especially in mathematics and science—and from increasing academic demands and programs for the gifted student, is not much of our education still lockstepping on five 45-minute periods per week, and memorization of quantities of material?

"I think we need to stress quality."

PROFESSOR JOHN I. GOODLAD, director of an experimental elementary school at the University of California in Los Angeles, said recent high school curriculum changes have neglected significant areas of instruction—geography, anthropology, law, political science, art and music.

THE HARSHEST CRITICISM of the quality of teaching—in college as well as in high school—came from Robert F. Byrnes, chairman of the department of history at Indiana University.

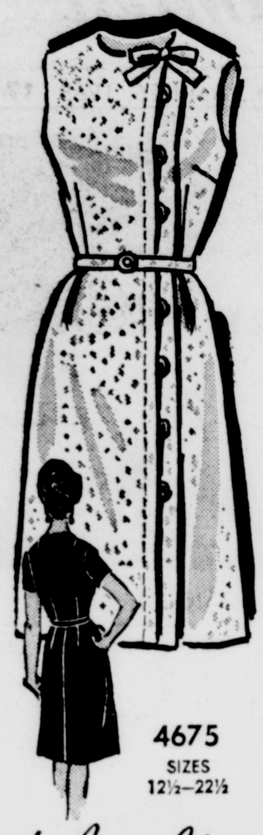

"By and large," he said, "it is a fact that the most intelligent people do not go into teaching. The kind of people who teach in American high schools are the kind of people who get "C's" in American colleges," Byrnes said.

Excellence in education will not be achieved by doubling or tripling assignment loads, but by greater efforts to recruit outstanding teachers, Byrnes declared.

"It will be a happy day," he said, "when we show the same zeal in recruiting faculty that our coaches show in recruiting football players."

San Rafael Teen-Ager Is April Volunteer Of Month

The Volunteer Bureau of Marin has selected Jim Swanson of San Rafael as April Volunteer of the Month.

A 17-year-old high school junior, Jim is one of Boyd Natural Science Museum's most outstanding volunteers, according to Mrs. Clara Evans, acting director of the museum. He spends an average of 20 hours a week there on afternoons and weekends.

JIM SWANSON

Jim has been a regular volunteer at the museum since he was 8 years old—which is when the museum opened. His work there and his school studies have gone hand in hand over the years. Jim's high school major is biology, and he hopes for a career in zoology.

Jim's job at the museum the past year has included helping with clean-up, putting programs on film and preparing meals for the animals.

The construction now underway to transform the museum has kept him especially busy in the last few weeks. He has occasionally volunteered his father's time and tools. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Swanson of San Rafael. Jim commutes daily to Saleisian School in Richmond.

Mrs. Marion Kelley, executive director of the Volunteer Bureau, said that the connection between Jim's volunteer work and his choice of career is duplicated by many teen-agers.

"Many teen-agers spend their summers doing meaningful work in one of the many volunteer jobs available to them to gain experience, self-confidence, and often, the beginning of a career." Mrs. Kelley is currently working with agencies in Marin to compile a varied list of summer volunteer jobs for teen-agers.

The Volunteer Bureau, sponsored by the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc., is at 725 A Street in San Rafael.

Women To View Wig Fashion Show

Busy with arrangements for their forthcoming wig fashion show and luncheon are members of the Women's Auxiliary of the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere.

The program has been planned for the May 5 event to feature wigs for the yachting set.

A buffet luncheon will be served at noon in conjunction with the style show, which is under the direction of auxiliary president Mrs. Benton Mathews of Belvedere.

Decorations chairman is Mrs. G. D. Arntz of Belvedere.

Scientists Develop A Quicker Test To Speed Measle Vaccine

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Scientists have developed a quick new test that should speed development of a vaccine against baby-deforming German measles. The test can tell overnight whether an expectant mother has been exposed the German measles. Until now, the same finding took about two weeks.

THE TEST IS already being used in a survey of infections among 6,000 women who were pregnant last year during a rubella epidemic. Rubellas is the medical name for German measles, ordinarily a mild ailment causing fewer painful symptoms than red measles.

When a mother is infected by rubella in the first three months of pregnancy, however, the virus can cause physical or mental defects in the unborn infant. About 20 per cent of the women having rubella in early pregnancy bear children deformed to some degree.

DRS. JOHN L. SEVER and Robert J. Huebner of the National Institute of Health here described the 24-hour detection test in the current issue of the Journal of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science. The technique is the result of joint efforts with industry microbiologists.

One problem with gamma globulin is knowing how useful it is in lowering the risk of birth defects among rubella-exposed women. Gamma globulin is a blood derivitive borrowed from donors who have already had the disease, and theoretically is a way to "lend" some immunity.

WITH THE NEW TEST, doctors can assess the results of survey faster and cheaper.

Soon it might be possible to map a relationship between the degree of infection and the extent of damage to the embryo. This in turn could offer doctors and parents critical information about the wisdom of therapuetic abortions.

The economy and speed of the test should supply readier data and thus speed an anti-rubella vaccine, the scientists said.

Brown Act Clarification Deserves Senate Approval

New legislation (AB 946) that would tighten portions of the Brown Act and clarify other portions passed the Assembly last week by a 53-8 vote.

We hope it will receive similar attention and approval in the State Senate.

The bill, authored and amended by Assemblyman Milton Marks, R-San Francisco, closes some of the loopholes in the state's open-meeting law. At the same time, the new measure makes more specific, those instances in which closed meetings are permissible.

To that extent, the bill that finally passed the Assembly was a compromise of sorts.

The bill requires open meetings for committees and subcommittees (comprised of two or more members) of local agencies.

Meetings to hear charges or complaints against an employee or official may still be held behind closed doors, unless the employee or official requests a public hearing.

Even when a public hearing is requested, the final deliberation (after all testimony and evidence are in) would be permitted behind closed doors, much as a jury would deliberate, under the new bill. To this extent, the new measure expands the area where closed meetings are permitted.

But all in all, we feel Assemblyman Marks' bill, as approved overwhelmingly by the Assembly, provides the needed improvements and clarifications in the existing Brown Act.

We hope the Senate approves the measure in substantially its present form.

If too many exemptions are granted to the open-meeting requirement, and if the open meeting provisions are watered down any further, the original intent of the Ralph M. Brown Act—to keep the public fully informed—would be lost.

SO THE PEOPLE SHALL KNOW

Congress Prepares Proposals To End Presidential Puzzles

WASHINGTON (AP) — Very shortly Congress, which has always ducked or ignored the problem, is expected to wipe out some fog which has hovered over the presidency and vice presidency from the beginning.

For 175 years the Constitution has been vague, and has been left that way, on some vital questions about those two offices.

If the vice presidency is vacant, because a vice president died or succeeded to the presidency, should someone else be put in the No. 2 spot and, if so, how?

THIS IS the same question, put another way: If the president dies, and there's no vice president, who becomes president? Three times Congress tied to answer the question, but always obliquely, never directly.

This country has been without a vice president 16 times for a total of 37 years when eight vice presidents became president and other vice presidents died.

In 1792, in 1886 and again in 1947 Congress passed laws providing for succession to the presidency when there is no vice president.

The first time the president pro tempore of the Senate (a senator) was made next in line; this was then changed to make the secretary of state next in line; and now it's the speaker of the House.

This arrangement never satisfied everyone and still doesn't.

Related to the succession question is this other very important one:

SUPPOSE, instead of dying, a president is too disabled to carry out his duties and the vice president moves in to carry out those duties until the president recovers?

In this period did the "office" of the presidency devolve upon the vice president? If so, then wasn't he really the president? If he was, how could the ailing president ever reclaim his office when he recovered?

And there was this final puzzle:

Suppose a president can't do his job but, because of fear of losing his office permanently to a vice president who takes over for him, refuses to admit his inability. What then?

And, more unpleasantly, suppose an ailing president yields temporarily to a vice president and then there is some doubt about his recovery and ability when he thinks he's all right to resume his job. What happens?

HOUSE AND SENATE have passed resolutions proposing a constitutional amendment answering all these questions. They have to iron out a few differences before submitting it to the states.

Before the proposal can become part of the Constitution, 38 states must approve. This is what Congress wants as an amendment, spelled out:

1. When the vice presidency is vacant, the president shall nominate a vice president. He can take office if a majority of both houses approve.

2. If a president dies or is removed from office, the vice president becomes president.

3. If a president is too disabled to do his job, the vice president will be "acting" president until he recovers.

4. If a president is too disabled to inform Congress, the vice president and a majority of the principal officers of the executive departments shall so inform Congress in writing and the vice president shall act as president.

This will continue until the president informs Congress he is all right.

But suppose he thinks he can do his job but the vice president and a majority of the principal officers of the executive departments don't. Then what?

THEY CAN TELL Congress. If two-thirds of both houses decide the president is unable to function, the vice president will take over his duties. Otherwise, the president will resume his duties.

May To Honor Marin Senior Citizens

May is Senior Citizens Month throughout California and the nation.

In Marin, thanks to a group of dedicated community leaders and energetic senior citizens themselves, Senior Citizens Month will be observed with much more than just lip service.

Marin's elderly will not be put into the embarrassing position of being spotlighted, gaped at and pitied during the one month set aside, then forgotten for the rest of the year.

Instead of being isolated from society, they will be joining and doing their share in the various community activities scheduled for May. For example, senior citizens will be cooperating in every way with the annual May In Marin celebration, sponsored by the Marin Visitors Bureau.

Under the guidance of the Marin Council of Community Services, and project coordinator Richard Phenix, the seniors have an active program the year round. Their newspaper keeps them informed, and a calendar of coming events keeps them occupied.

They attend sports and cultural events. Many are involved in serving others through volunteer work.

They are not sitting back, basking in the spotlight of a month set aside in their honor. They are using the occasion to help themselves and to help others.

Three cheers to our senior citizens, senior in years but young at heart.

They've spent a lifetime making their contributions to society. They've earned the right to share in some of the benefits of society, not as outcasts but as respected and still contributing members.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Synanon Is Not An Answer

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The recent article in the I-J was rather misleading inasmuch as no more than 20 students and not the entire campus of Marin College attended the talk on Synanon.

Miss Good stated that they learn at Synanon how to live without crutches, but when a group of healthy young men and women live on donations from a (gullible?) well-meaning public and who in no way have become productive members of society tends to disprove that they have attained any emotional security—much less a cure for drug addiction, which is a spiritual, mental and physical affliction.

Synanon has become the crutch and changing crutches is no answer. In this case, it does explain why the residents of Synanon live there the year around—being able to function only in the framework of an institution.

Miss Presley Needs Support

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . Food and rent are so high . . . and are out of the reach of persons who are receiving county aid. . . .

When Miss Presley, director of Marin County welfare, asked for some additional funds to help her department make things equalize the steady raising of living expense, she was told by the board of supervisors they would take it under advisement. And they want to cut her budget.

I have been in the past a taxpayer and (know of) the remark by two of the board (that) they would stop handouts. That statement was not tactful, an insult to human dignity.

May I ask, who do you men of the board of supervisors think you are? You can't sit there and act God. . . .

Back to Miss Presley of welfare . . . will say she is most efficient in her commitments. And she tries. . . .

There could be another recall—this is not intended to be intimidation. Just statement of my thoughts. . . .

Rec Commission Hands Were Tied

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The Larkspur-Corte Madera Recreation Commission is composed of seven members—two appointed by the Town Council of Corte Madera, two by the City Council of Larkspur, two by Larkspur School District, and one at large. . . .

It must be obvious . . . that the commission could not take a stand in an election that affected only one of its contributing members. The members of the commission did not "sit on their hands," as alleged. Rather, their hands were tied and no blame for the failure of the Corte Madera recreation tax election should be foisted upon this commission. . . .

Since the election was extremely close, and since many people have indicated that they were not in favor of an additional tax and would vote against it, but at the same time stated they emphatically wanted the joint recreation program to continue, it is only right and proper that a true evaluation of this confused election be made with regard to the simple proposition — do the voters of Corte Madera want recreation for the children and adults of their community or not?

The $5,300 required as Corte Madera's contribution to the joint recreation program to Dec. 31, 1965, should be favorably considered at budget sessions (budget of approximately $500,000) as a vital and necessary service to which the taxpayers are entitled.

Costs Little To Write Congressmen

Editor, Independent-Journal:

During a temporary lull in domestic crises I would urge Marin voters to look across the Pacific and thoughtfully consider whether they have views to express concerning the Viet Nam situation. In a democracy, letters to the president, State Department, foreign affairs committee, U.S. Senate, or congressmen are always appropriate and sometimes urgently needed.

A 10-word telegram may be sent to Washington, D.C., for 90 cents under the "political opinion" rate; a fifty-word night letter costs $1.85; airmail stamps are eight cents and surface mail five.

It might just be worth it.

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon B. Johnson is virtually set to name an envoy to the Vatican.

WHILE THIS backstage decision is far advanced, still under deliberation is whether to designate an ambassador or a somewhat lesser diplomatically ranking "U.S. representative."

Foremost among the possible appointees is former Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

A Republican and Protestant, with extensive experience as ambassador to the United Nations and South Viet Nam, the 1960 vice presidential candidate is deemed especially qualified for this important mission.

Among others under consideration are Ambassador-at-large Averell Harriman and former Central Intelligence Director John McCone.

Congressional authorities understand this appointment will most likely be made before the convening of the next Ecumenical Council in the fall.

Last "U.S. representative" at the Holy See was Myron Taylor.

NAMED by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the one-time leading industrialist continued in this post in the Truman administration. When Taylor retired, Truman sought to replace him with Gen. Mark Clark, who commanded U.S. forces in Italy, with the rank of ambassador.

That triggered a stormy controversy in and out of Congress. Truman finally withdrew Clark's name. Since then, no president has attempted to re-establish a diplomatic mission at the Vatican, although this was favored in many quarters.

At the second Ecumenical Council last year, Willard Matthias, of the CIA's influential board of national estimates, attended in the role of "observer."

IN CONGRESSIONAL circles, the CIA is also said to have been active in the so-called "opening-to-the-left" movement that led to veteran Socialist leader Pietro Nenni becoming deputy premier in the present Italian government.

THE COMMUNIST Party definitely had an important hand in that so-called students' march on Washington last Saturday to demonstrate against U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

Also last month, the national headquarters of the W. E. B. DuBois Clubs, the party's youth organization, dispatched a directive to its branches throughout the country calling for their full backing.

This communication offered to supply "pamphlets, petitions, leaflets and posters" with no indication of their source.

This significant leftist communication also stated:

"FOR THE FIRST time in many years there is actually a debate raging in the country over our foreign policy in the Far East. . . . Significant voices in labor, religion and government have spoken out against our present policy. . . . If carried forward, stepped up and coordinated, this could be a most healthy development in American politics. . . ."

Miller's Bills May Rejuvenate State Civil Service Competition

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Several bills which could cause the state to operate on a less socialistic basis in the handling of its employees have been introduced by State Sen. George Miller, D-Contra Costa County.

AT PRESENT, state employees often are coddled with pay increases, some of them deserved and some not earned. The state subscribes to the socialistic theory of one for all and all for one, with no consideration for production.

This, is has long been pointed out, has been a fallacy of civil service, which directs employees into a rut and discourages enterprise in service to the public.

S.B. 1244, by Senator Miller, would end automatic salary adjustment for state civil service employees and provide increases for merit only when employees meet efficiency standards established by the state personnel board.

TO AVOID favoritism, the bill would require that, in denial of a salary increase, the supervisor of the employee would be required to explain and advise for the improvement of performance. Also, the supervisor's action would be subject to review only by his superior, thus eliminating a lot of appeals to the board itself.

Another Miller measure would permit open, non-promotional examinations to fill vacancies at any level of state government. Presently, examinations for higher paying state jobs are open only to personnel already with the state in lesser jobs. The public sometimes is deprived of the services of men and women who have had vast experience in various fields.

THIS SITUATION also creates a monopoly on state jobs by employees who have started in the service as clerks and who lack the wide outside experience needed to recognize the needs and problems of the public.

The Miller bills in no way, however, affect the opportunity for the state employee to get ahead. But, under these bills, his competition would be keener and the public served better.

The California State Employees Assn. almost certainly will have something to say about the Miller measures. The CSEA includes most state employees and represents them at the State Legislature. Members pay dues whether or not they are capable employees.

State department heads often are frustrated by the restrictive regulations of the personnel board in appointing employees who can handle a job. Still another Miller bill would allow greater leeway in appointee selection by opening selection to those who are within four points of the highest three on the list of grades in the civil service exam.

THE MILLER BILLS aim to make civil service corrections by easy stages, not attempt to wipe out the system and start all over, a step which has been suggested.

SOMERSET Michamud sat happily typing the final pages of his new novel. In the yard, his six-year-old son had just tripped over a tree root and broken his leg. The boxer puppy had chewed up Mrs. Michamud's best curtain, the twins had spilled a can of paint in the parlor and were now trying to pull each other's hair out, and the nurse had given notice. Mrs. Michamud called out to her husband, "Lunch is almost ready. How far have you gotten with your manuscript?" Mr. M. answered, "It's going like a house afire. The hero is just proposing to the heroine."

Unwashed Pickets Really Don't Particulary Like Being Unkept

WASHINGTON — The real objection to student demonstrations in the United States, as far as I can discover, is not the politics of the students or what they're demonstrating against, but the fact that many of the demonstrators are unwashed and uncombed.

JUST THE OTHER day Congressman Dowdy of Texas told the Daughters of the American Revolution at their 74th convention that their arrival in Washington was "a breath of fresh air" compared to the "rabble-rousers, beatniks and bums who so recently have been descending on us."

Many people have been echoing Congressman Dowdy's words. "If only they'd take a bath," a friend told me, "I wouldn't care what they did."

Another man said, "I think if they really believed in America they'd shave." A lady who witnessed the White House Easter demonstrations said, "I don't think those girls shampooed their hair in a year."

And so it goes. There is nothing that disturbs a white collar worker more than somebody else with a dirty white collar. It is therefore my belief that if we could clean up our demonstrators there would be no objection to their demonstrating. For one thing, you know anybody who looks clean isn't going to be a Communist.

FOR ANOTHER, since cleanliness is so close to godliness, you know that a clean demonstrator believes in God, and that's all we ask of our students these days.

I talked to several of the students picketing the White House on the Easter week end and they agreed with me that cleanliness was quite a problem when you're demonstrating.

"You ride all night on a bus," one student said, "so you're not going to wear your best clothes. Then you have to think in terms of sit-ins. You never know when you're going to be ordered to sit down. Most sidewalks are pretty dirty, you know."

Another student agreed and also said, "You know, demonstrating is hard work and you work up quite a lot of perspiration carrying those signs over your head. Even if you did take a bath it wouldn't help."

A COLLEGE CO-ED in blue jeans said, "There's no sense putting up your hair because it gets all messed up if you get arrested."

"It isn't as if we're going to a prom," another co-ed added.

"But there are some pickets who look very neat," I said.

"Oh, those are FBI informers. They have to look neat or they'll ruin their image."

"Besides," the other co-ed added, "they're the only ones allowed to use the White House washroom."

"Then you're not against baths in principle?"

"OH, NO," a student said. "If they let me in the White House I'd take one right now."

"Me, too," another student said. "They must have more than one bath in there."

ONLY ONE student in the group said he wouldn't take a bath in the White House. "At least not until they stop bombing North Viet Nam."

Here's A Totally New Proposal To Solve Marincello Problems

One sure way these days for a reporter to get himself syndicated in a hurry is to say something nice about Marincello.

When such an opportunity comes along, there are few of us in this ink-stained legion of the damned who can let it slip by.

So here goes.

First of all, I'd like to say that those of you who suggest that Marincello's land be converted quickly into a national cemetery may have good intentions, but you are simply not being constructive.

It's like telling Thomas Frouge and Co. to drop dead. It's sort of a we-will-bury-you attitude, and over-my-dead-body hospitality.

The second thing I'd like to do is offer some advice to Mr. Frouge.

You know you're proposing this new concept of a planned community next to two of the most tradition-bound towns of California.

You have Mill Valley, where they only recently discovered the law permitting cities to annex uninhabited territories, and you have Sausalito, where they still believe in ferries.

You simply have got to move slowly, Mr. Frouge. You have got to explore all the alternatives.

NOW, I HAVE come up with an alternative that has not yet been suggested. It has a great deal of merit and could go a long way in calming the political storm that Frouge and Co. have stirred up.

If Mr. Frouge wants to pursue this, he may without giving me any credit at all. He's caught me in a generous mood, you see.

I have talked this over with my staff, and every one of them to a man has endorsed it with enthusiasm.

"Yeah, sure, Rick, that's a fine idea. Now go away. Can't you see I'm busy?"

That is typical of the many comments here.

MY PLAN is so simple in concept and origin that it is a marvel those fellows back in New York never stumbled onto it.

It is simply this: First you get several rather large barges, tie them together with some stout cables or ropes and then build your planned community on the platform thus created.

Why barges?

Well, I was hoping someone would ask about that. What we're going to do is float Marincello on San Francisco Bay.

Clever, huh?

The SS Marincello would not only become a seaside community, it would also become a peripatetic one.

When the people on Point San Quentin grow tired of seeing Marincello tied up on their shores, the city can start up its big stern wheel paddles (I guess I forgot to mention the big stern wheel paddles) and steam down to Tiburon or over to Richmond.

ANOTHER ADVANTAGE of this idea is that it would cut out a great deal of commute traffic, for the SS Marincello would make daily runs between the San Francisco Ferry Building and whatever home port it happened to be occupying.

All a Marincello resident will have to do to go to work is simply kiss the wife, get in the elevator and walk.

Conservationists should like the idea because Mr. Frouge would provide strong pressure against any further filling of San Francisco Bay. Filling, you see, would only restrict the navigation area of SS Marincello. The city will need a good deal of navigation area, especially with all that open space that is proposed.

THERE ARE many, many, many other advantages which are too obvious to mention. Listing them would only serve to insult your intelligence, and I am beneath that.

I would ask, however, for some reaction to my plan. I suppose the letters will not really start coming in until this column is syndicated.

So, Mr. Frouge, there you have it.

Welfare Pay Average High

Marin residents received an average total of $13,976 a day in public welfare payments during February, according to S. J. Arnold, Executive Director of the California Taxpayers' Assn.

A total of $391,315 was paid to county welfare recipients during that month, Arnold said.

Most of the money was broken into three areas: old age security, $121,038; aid to families with dependent children, $125,244; and medical assistance to the aged, $91,218.

Opossums are the fastest breeding animals known, producing young about 13 days after mating.

Davis Graduate To Enter Stanford

Suzanne Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David F. Scott of Larkspur, has been admitted to the Stanford University teacher education program, to start in June, immediately after her graduation from University of Califorina at Davis.

Miss Scott, a 1963 graduate from the College of Marin, is a social studies major. The Stanford program includes practice teaching and leads to a master's degree in one year.

The origin and name of Brussels sprouts, a little brother of the cabbage, can be traced to the capital of Belgium about 800 years ago.

Today is Monday, April 26, the 116th day of 1965 with 249 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning stars are Saturn and Mars. The evening stars are Mars and Jupiter.

John James Audubon, American naturalist, was born on this day in 1785.

On this day in history:

In 1607, the first British colonists to establish a permanent settlement in America, landed at Cape Henry, Va.

In 1865, federal troops killed John Wilkes Booth, the assassin of President Abraham Lincoln, near Port Royal, Va., despite orders to capture him alive.

In 1954, a nationwide test of the Salk anti-polio vaccine began in 45 states.

In 1962, a U.S. Ranger 4 space shot, fired three days earlier, hit the moon.

A thought for the day—British essayist Charles Lamb said: "A pun is a pistol let off at the ear, not a feather to tickle the intellect."

Life Of Genius Is Not Happy One In The World Of Bridge

Bridge players are improving so rapidly that it's harder every day to be a genius.

Just as you take a bow for your brilliance, some other genius sneaks up behind you to boot you right in the middle of the footlights.

Opening lead — ♣ K

West opened the king of clubs, and East signalled with the ten. West continued the clubs, giving East a ruff on the third round.

RETURNS TRUMP

East returned a trump to the ace, and South had to decide who had the queen of trumps.

Non-geniuses might toss a coin, but South led a heart to the dummy and returned the jack of clubs.

If East ruffed, South could over-ruff, and then only one trump would be left out. But East threw a diamond instead of ruffing.

WORKED OUT

When declarer next led a trump from dummy, East followed with a small trump, and South worked it all out.

Surely if East had only one small trump he would ruff the jack of clubs since he could thus prevent a discard with a trump that meant nothing to anybody.

East's refusal to ruff made it clear that he had the queen of trumps as well as the small trump. East couldn't afford to part with the small trump since then the queen would be unguarded.

After working it all out, South triumphantly put his hand face up on the table and explained why he was finessing with the jack of spades. It was such a clear explanation that West admiringly asked to hear it again before he played to the trick.

South obliged, and West heard him out to the very end before he showed the queen of spades and took the setting trick. The life of a genius is very hard.

Incidentally, East didn't claim to be a genius. It was clear that South wanted him to ruff, and East reasoned that what was good for South could not be good for his opponents.

ORDINANCE NO. 1433

AN ORDINANCE OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, AMENDING ORDINANCE NO. 1410, AN INTERIM ORDINANCE ESTABLISHING THE KENTFIELD INTERIM ZONE.

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN, STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Section 3 of Ordinance No. 1410 is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 3. Except for existing uses in their present form, or uses specifically shown on the proposed General Plan, no land, building or structure located within the interim zone established hereby, shall hereafter be developed, or used for any purposes unless a use permit is issued therefor, in the manner prescribed in Ordinance 164. Use permits will be issued only upon a determination and finding that said use will not conflict with:

"(1) The provisions of said proposed amended zoning map;

"(2) Such proposed ordinances as may be necessary to implement the Kentfield General Plan;

"(3) Recommendations contained in the Kentfield General Plan."

Section 2. In all other respects, Ordinance No. 1410 shall remain in full force and effect.

Section 3. This ordinance is hereby declared to be an urgency measure and shall be in full force and effect immediately upon its adoption and fifteen (15) days after adoption this ordinance shall be published in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation published in the County of Marin. The conditions constituting such urgency are as follows:

Ordinance No. 1410 was adopted by the Board of Supervisors in order to prevent the erection, construction or revision of structures only to the extent that such actions were contrary to the proposed Kentfield General Plan. However, Ordinance No. 1410 has inadvertently, and contrary to the intent of the Board of Supervisors, resulted in delays in the construction of uses which are specifically shown on the proposed General Plan, with resulting general detriment to the area, and inconvenience and hardship to the parties affected thereby.

The immediate operation of this ordinance is, therefore, necessary to protect the public health and general welfare.

The foregoing ordinance was passed and adopted at a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, State of California, held on the 20th day of April, 1965, by the following vote:

AYES: SUPERVISORS William A. Gnoss, Thomas T. Storer, Ernest N. Kettenhofen, Peter H. Behr.
NOES: SUPERVISORS (None).
ABSENT: SUPERVISORS Byron W. Leydecker.

ISSUE: $350,000.00 1965 School Bonds, consisting of 350 bonds of the denomination of $1,000.00 each, numbered 1 to 350, inclusive, all dated May 1, 1965. Said bonds are all of an authorized issue in the aggregate principal amount of $350,000.00.

The interest rate stated in the bid must be a multiple of one-eighth or one-twentieth of one percent per annum, payable as aforesaid.

MATURITIES: Said bonds mature serially in consecutive numerical order from lower to higher (without option of prior redemption) as follows:

$15,000.00	51 - 140	1971-1976
$20,000.00	141 - 240	1977-1981

PAYMENT: Both principal and interest payable in lawful money of the United States at the San Francisco Main Office of Bank of America, National Trust and Savings Association in the City and County of San Francisco, State of California, or at the option of the holder at the respective offices of the paying agents of said County in the City of New York, State of New York, or in the City of Chicago, State of Illinois.

REGISTRATION: Coupon bonds will be issued by said Board of Supervisors on behalf of said school district. Such bonds are registrable only as to both principal and interest.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Said bonds were authorized by more than two-thirds of the voters voting at an election held in said district on September 15, 1964, and will be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for authorized school purposes.

SECURITY: The bonds are general obligations of said school district and said Board of Supervisors has power and is obligated to levy ad valorem taxes for the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon upon all property within said school district, subject to taxation by said school district (except certain intangible personal property, which is taxable at limited rates), without limitation of rate or amount.

TAX EXEMPT STATUS: In the event that prior to the delivery of the bonds the income received by private holders from bonds of the same type and character shall be declared to be taxable under any Federal Income Tax laws, either by the terms of such laws or by ruling of a Federal Income Tax authority or official which is followed by the Internal Revenue Service or by the decision of any Federal Court, the successful bidder may at his option, prior to the tender of said bonds by the Board of Supervisors, be relieved of his obligation under the contract to purchase the bonds and, in such case, the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned.

LEGAL OPINION: The legal opinion of the following firm, approving the validity of said bonds, will be furnished to the successful bidder without charge: Orrick, Dahlquist, Herrington & Sutcliffe of San Francisco, California. A copy of the legal opinion, certified by the official in whose office the original is filed, will be printed on each bond at the expense of the successful bidder, if requested in his bid.

TERMS OF SALE

HIGHEST BIDDER: The bonds will be awarded to the highest responsible bidder or bidders considering the interest rate or rates specified and the premium offered, if any. The highest bid will be determined by deducting the amount of the premium bid (if any) from the total amount of interest which the district would be required to pay from the date of said bonds to the respective maturity dates thereof at the coupon rate or rates specified in the bid, and the award will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the district. The lowest net interest cost shall be computed on a 360-day year basis. The purchaser must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of delivery. The cost of printing the bonds will be borne by the district.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: Said Board of Supervisors reserves the right in its discretion to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

PROMPT AWARD: The Board of Supervisors will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than 24 hours after the expiration of the time herein prescribed for receipt of proposals; provided, that the award may be made after the expiration of the specified time if the bidder shall not have given the Board of Supervisors notice in writing of the withdrawal of such proposal.

PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of said bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the County Treasurer of said County as soon as the bonds can be prepared, which it is estimated will be within 30 days from the day of sale.

RIGHT OF CANCELLATION: The successful bidder shall have the right, at his option, to cancel the contract of purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 60 days from the date of sale thereof, and in such event, the successful bidder shall be entitled to the return of the deposit accompanying his bid.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds hereby offered for sale, and for not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest to date of delivery. Such bids, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Board of Supervisors of said County and endorsed "Proposal for School Bonds of ROSS SCHOOL DISTRICT OF MARIN COUNTY".

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $1,000.00 drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the County Treasurer, to secure said school district from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. In addition, bidders are requested (but not required) to supply an estimate of the total net interest cost to the district on the basis of their respective bids, which shall be considered as informative only and not binding on either the bidder or the district. Checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by the County Clerk by mail, upon the award of the bonds. No interest will be paid upon deposit made by the successful bidder.

There is no controversy or litigation pending or threatened concerning the validity of the above issue, the corporate existence of said district or the title of the officers to their respective offices and the Board of Supervisors will deliver to the successful bidder a no-litigation certificate certifying to the foregoing as of and at the time of the delivery of the bonds.

Dated: April 6, 1965.

RUM RUNNERS SPECIAL

Weird Questions Are His Daily Diet

By RICHARD LYTTLE

How were the cabins in old sailing ships furnished?

What are the ratings on the Ludwig piano?

What American author writes spy stories similar to those by Ian Fleming?

This is not the opening to a quiz program. It is just a small sample of the endeavor of Philip J. Sheridan, reference librarian in the Marin County Library at the Civic Center.

Sheridan, who started in the new job March 8, has had a vast range of questions. The three listed above were among the few he could not answer.

His question answering is an example of special services which libraries can offer. County Librarian Virginia Keating called especial attention today because this is National Library Week, observed by libraries across the country through Saturday.

Answering questions and helping people find reference books is only part of Sheridan's job. He spends a good deal of time cataloguing new reference books and working with the North Bay Cooperative Library System.

Under this system, reference departments of all libraries in North Bay counties work in concert. Each library has a specialty in reference material.

Marin county's specialty is all fields of art. This includes architecture, sculpture, painting and ceramics.

If a researcher in Sonoma County has a question on art that can not be answered at the Sonoma County Library, the query comes to Marin by teletype.

Sometimes the answer can be supplied in a short message. Other times it means copying pages of a reference book and putting it in the mail to the accociated library.

The Marin County Library will give three free copies on its photo-copying machine. Each additional copy costs a dime.

Sheridan, who got his training at Occidental College and University of California at Berkeley, said there are many helpful reference books that can give ready answers to questions.

A writer seeking an article by E. B. Roberts on television script writing was referred to a heavy catalogue of periodicals. The article was listed there with the name and date of the magazine in which it appeared.

Another person seeking the name of a foundation which provides low-cost insurance for teachers was referred to the Encyclopedia of Associations.

Other questions, such as what are the results of road tests on the Fiat automobile? Or what is a good washing machine? are best answered by Consumer's Guide or other specialty magazines, Sheridan said.

A baker making a St. Patrick's day cake threw a spelling question at Sheridan. How do you spell Erin go Brach? It means "Ireland forever." Sheridan knew right where to find a Gaelic vocabulary and confirm that Brach was spelt B-R-A-C-H.

Questions on current events are best answered by the county library's world news digest index.

Thus when one Marin citizen asked to see the text of President Lyndon B. Johnson's health speech, Sheridan was able to find the date of the speech in the index and then go to the appropriate issue of the New York Times for the full text.

Sometimes, Sheridan admits, he is lucky in his search. When he was asked for information on the food chain of the herring—that is, what is eaten by the things the herrings eat and what eats the things that eat the things that eat the herring—Sheridan looked in a general biology book and found that the herring food chain just happened to be used as an example.

"I was so pleased," Sheridan said, "I think that woman must have thought I was nuts."

If a question stumps him, Sheridan is often able to refer a person to another source for an answer.

Ludwig pianos have not been made for many years, and Sheridan was unable to find any information on their ratings. He referred the call to a piano dealer.

He could find no information on the furnishings inside old sailing ships. "Perhaps we will get that kind of material eventually," he said.

Questions that are really tough are the vague ones like "What American author writes stories like Ian Fleming?"

Sheridan said about the only way he can try to solve that one is ask another librarian.

Play On Grammar Slated At School

Seventh and eighth grade students at Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur will give three performances of "Gregory Gramcar Accuses," a story play written and directed by teacher Casey Poole, at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Neil Cummins School and Wednesday and Friday at Hall.

The play is a courtroom scene showing uses and mis-uses of English grammar. Main speaking parts will be performed by Margaret Ray, Francis McCord, Cynthia Smith, Kathy McGill and Mike Van den Akker.

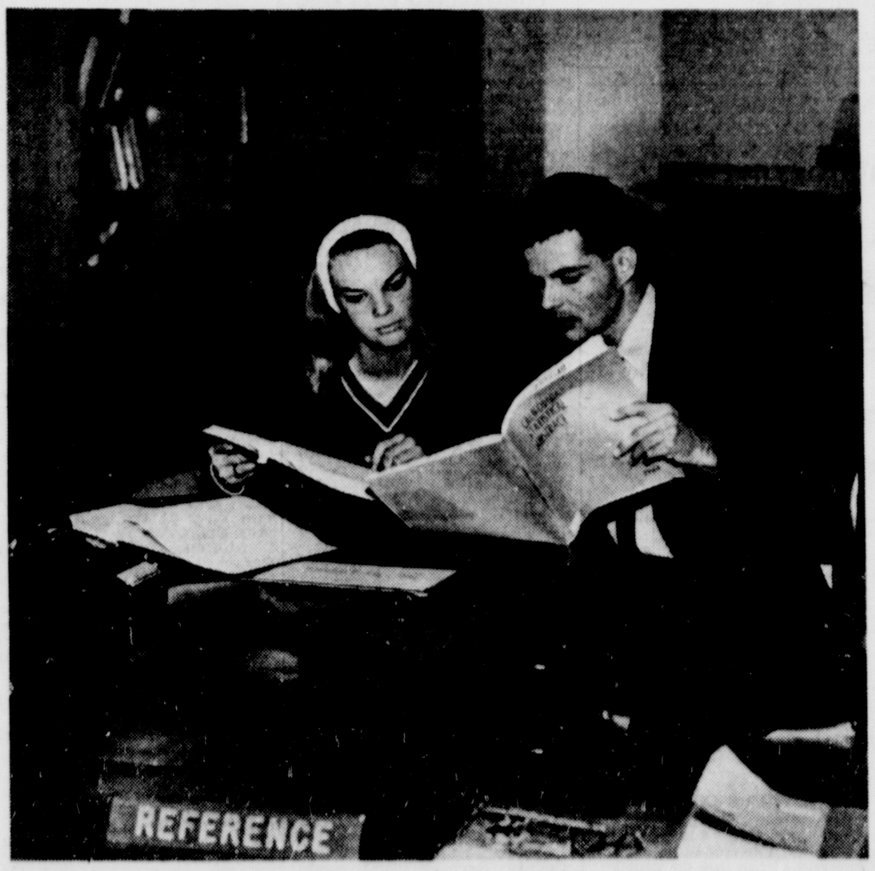

Soldier Gets Korean Duty

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—PFC. Billy Wilson, who requested an "immediate transfer" after being courtmartialed for failing to salute a general, had his request granted today. He was sent to Korea.

The Nashville, Tenn., soldier was courtmartialed for not saluting Brig. Gen. Charles R. Meyer as the general's car passed him in the Presidio here.

An Army spokesman said Friday that Wilson accepted the assignment to U.S. Eighth Army, Korea, when he was told of the opening.

Dice games were played by Greeks and Romans.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Color Blind Individual Does Not See World Only In Black, White

VAN DELLEN

A common myth is that the color blind individual is insensitive to all colors. This is a reasonable misconception because the term implies total color blindness, a condition that exists but so far only 100 cases have been reported. These few see the world in black and white just as it is on the older TV sets. The most common forms of defective color vision center about shade variations. All colors appear as yellows and blues. Certain shades of red, green, and yellow are confused because they look alike. The same can be said of bluish greens, blues, and violet. The majority can distinguish a red from a green traffic light but flunk a more sensitive test. When a green-blind person looks at green, he probably doesn't see the same color that a normal viewer sees. Whatever the hue may be, it is green to him and is easily distinguished provided he is not asked to match it to another shade of green.

THE MOST accurate test (modified by Ishihara) consists of a series of plates containing hidden numbers made up of color spots of various shades. These are set on a background which is made of spots of a confusion color, also of varying shades and sizes. The normal viewer is able to distinguish the numbers on most of the plates. Those with defective color vision do not see the numbers, because, to them, number and background appear to be of similar hues.

More men than women are bothered along this line because it is a sex-linked characteristic. It originates with the chromosomes (female XX and male XY). The boy is color deficient if he inherits the characteristic of the single X chromosome which he gets from his mother. The girl must inherit this type of X chromosome from both parents to develop color blindness.

THE CONDITION is not dangerous and seldom a handicap except in occupations requiring acute color perception. It is not a bar to military service, but the Air Force is not looking for color-blind men because they can be fooled by camouflage.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self - addressed envelope accompanies request.)

EAT WHEN HUNGRY

J. C. writes: How much time should there be between meals, and is the body affected by eating meals too close together?

REPLY

There is no set time and, in the animal kingdom, eating when hungry is the rule. Our schedules are man-made and, if adhered to, cause most of us to become hungry at certain times. We all know persons who thrive on two meals a day, a few on only one, and others on four or five. It is an individual problem which we fit into our scheme of living.

TISSUE DISEASE

B. E. M. writes: Is lupus erythematosus fatal? Can a blood test determine its presence?

REPLY

Some forms of this connective tissue disease are fatal. Life is prolonged with the antibiotics and steroids such as cortisone. A typical cell (L.E. cell) is noted in the blood.

CHRONIC MASTITIS

Mrs. A. S. writes: Can chronic mastitis precipitate malignancy of the breast?

REPLY

The cause of breast cancer is unknown and it is doubtful whether a chronic infection (mastitis) plays a causative role.

RIGHT NOW!

Mrs. T. writes: Four months ago I had my gall bladder removed. How long must I wait before resuming housework?

REPLY

You are overdue!

Today's Health Hint—Overuse of medicinal sprays may harm the nose.

HAL BOYLE REMEMBERS

Backyard Pools Were Rare In Days Of Yore

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — How is your garden of memories?

If you're like most people, you find it a pleasant place to take a mental stroll — and walk there more often as you grow older, for it is full of timeless flowers.

And you've got a pretty good-size memory garden if you can look back and remember when—

Summer wasn't official until you had gotten a stomachache from eating green apples picked in a daring night raid on a neighbor's tree.

Only rich families could afford a backyard swimming pool. A girl who appeared at a public beach in a suit that showed her dimpled knees could be arrested.

The handsome young Prince of Wales, the world's most eligible bachelor, went fox hunting on Long Island. According to rumor, he fell off his horse.

At the end of World War I the number of U.S. millionaires had increased from 16,000 to 20,000.

You were regarded as a local intellectual if you had an illustrated set of Dr. Burton Homes travelogues in your home.

The best horseshoe pitcher in town had more admirers than the leading banker.

Hailing the advent of the prohibition era, Evangelist Billy Sunday made a rosy forecast: "The slums soon will be only a memory. Hell will be forever for rent."

No kitchen was complete without a big oak icebox with real brass fixtures. In winter you cooled things by putting them in a box outside the window.

The only Americans who enjoyed skiing were kids on barrel staves.

The dream of every working man was to own a wide-striped shirt made of real silk. And if it had sleeve garters — well, all the snazzier.

The glad-handing at businessmen's club luncheons so annoyed H. L. Mencken that the Baltimore sage declared, "The first Rotarian was the first man to call John the Baptist Jack."

Girls visiting big cities were warned to beware of streetcar "mashers." These trolley Romeos usually were thought to have well-oiled hair, a waxed mustache and wear pearl gray spats. Their garlic breath also sometimes gave them away as the cads they were.

Many a farmhand's sole claim to fame was the fact that he could roll a cigarette — using only one hand.

A country teacher was never secure in his job until he had proved to the community's satisfaction that he could thrash the biggest boy in school.

It was almost a scandal for a young man to get married while still in college. He was expected to quit immediately and get a steady job.

You could usually get a blind date by dialing the phone operator and asking if she or one of her girl friends would like to step out after work.

Those were the good old days.

U.S. Is Adding New Airports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has added more than 600 new airports each year since 1960 to bring the total number of landing facilities to 9,490, according to the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA).

In figures released last week, the agency said Texas had the biggest number of airports with 812, followed by California with 627 and Alaska with 549.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Lindsey Profile Just About Perfect

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—It may sound unbelievable nowadays, especially to teen - agers, but there was actually a time in this country when juveniles were second-class citizens. Perhaps this was why there was a faint, untintentional irony yesterday evening to NBC-TV's "Profiles in Courage" episode about Judge Ben. B. Lindsey, who crusaded for enlightened juvenile laws early in the century.

Judge Lindsey did more for the youth of American than even Dick Clark. His vigorous fight in Denver for enlightened dealings with juvenile offenders was truly one of the great individual crusades of his time. His was also the time of Upton Sinclair and Lincoln Steffens and other reformers whose seemingly fiercely intentional innocence — informed innocence — and whose shrewdly purposeful naivete and professional amateurism achieved astounding results, an approach not lost on current reformers.

Thus Judge Lindsey was a good subject for a television drama. but I almost fell into the trap which I fear may have claimed a good many viewers. We are all pretty much affected by today's "hip" approach to most everything, and I know that for a while last evening the story of Lindsey seemed to me rather unsophisticated, exuding a flavor in its dealings with the children of an old dime novel, with a bit of Frank Capra-style directing thrown in, and a touch of the Dead End Kids with gold hearts. Well, all right, there was some of all of this, and some over-dramatized extraneous matter that might well have been replaced by more substantial adult material of legal specifics.

Furthermore, I don't know how accurately Lindsey was drawn, or whether he was as prissy in manner at times as portrayed by George Grizzard. But during several early breaks in the show, I skimmed through the brief chapter about Lindsey in "the autobiography of Lincoln Steffens" and found that, aside from those overdone moments, not only was the tone of the show just about perfect, but the script by Don Mankiewicz also had its heart in precisely the right area.

Cluster Zone, Permit Hearing Due Tomorrow

The San Rafael Planning Commission will hold its second hearing tomorrow on requests for planned community zoning and a use permit to build 254 cluster units in the San Rafael Park subdivision near Lucas Valley Road.

Commissioners will meet at 7:30 p.m. at city hall. The two matters appear first on the agenda.

First hearing on the requests, by Dubin Developers Inc., was held March 9. The subdivision is part of the Fagundes annexation.

Also scheduled is the tentative map for 41 lots in Terra Linda Unit 23 south of Montecillo Road and west of "The Meadows" sought by Alameda Homes Corp. It is item 7.

First hearing is scheduled on rezoning Porto Bello West to convert the development's plan from condominium to townhouses. This is item 3A.

Planning Director George H. Rodgers is expected to present a proposed amendment to the planned community district ordinance to permit this change. City Atty. David Menary Jr. has recommended a rezoning from "old planned community" to "new planned community" district.

Also on the agenda are use permit requests for a sign at Loch Lomond Marina and shopping center, Item 14; a sign advertising townhouses for sale at 333 Canal Street, Item 17; and a new radio transmitting tower on San Rafael Hill for KTIM-FM, Item 16.

San Rafael May Hike Fees For Child, Adult Swimmers

Increase in swimming pool admission rates from 40 to 50 cents for adults and 15 to 25 cents for children under 12 will be discussed by the San Rafael Recreation and Park Commission at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Joseph D. Rodota, recreation director, said yesterday that the department has had a difference of from $1,200 to $1,500 between cost of staffing the pools at Terra Linda and San Rafael high schools and revenue received from admissions.

"The rates haven't been raised for about six years although the cost of providing staff members for the public swimming programs at the pools has increased," he said.

The present admission rates are 15 cents for children under 12, 25 cents for teenagers and 40 cents for adults. Under the new schedule proposed by Rodota, the rates will be 25 cents for persons under 18 and 50 for those over 18.

The commission will study plans and construction costs for development of Sun Valley park and consider a request for a street light at the end of Warner Court near Albert Park.

Fairfax Council May Appoint A Vice Mayor

Appointment of a vice mayor for the City of Fairfax will be considered by the city council at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The position of vice mayor was left vacant last month with the election of Frank L. Lawrence Sr. as mayor, succeeding Mayor Cornelis Van Vliet who resigned.

Inclusion of the city in a proposed flood control district, urged by Marin County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, will be discussed.

A city-wide hotel and motel tax proposal will be considered.

To Canvass Votes

The Corte Madera Town Council will meet at 7:30 p.m. today to canvass votes in the town recreation tax election and to consider a request by Montgomery Ward and Co. to put up a tent in the Corte Madera Center parking lot.

Terra Linda High School Elections Set

School elections are not over yet.

Fifteen students at Terra Linda High School will be in a race for eight school offices for the fall semester in school elections Wednesday.

In the race for student body president are Jeff Heintz, Mike Krambs and Ben Edger.

Running for vice president are Craig Hill and Linda Ritter; for treasurer, Paul Cole and Gary Kramps; for commissioner of assemblies, Jackie Bridges and Laura Ritter; for commissioner of social affairs, Marti Bolton and Sue McGee, and commissioner for public relation, Pat Benton and Roby Fenz.

Marie Nunes is unopposed for secretary and Linda Nuti is unopposed for commissioner of spirit.

The new officers will take over during the last two weeks of their term. They will remain in office through the next fall semester.

Placerville was originally known as "Old Dry Diggings" and later as "Hangtown." Placer is perhaps derived from "plaza de oro," Spanish phrase meaning a place where gold is found.
